LAWMAKING MILL MAY BE RUN SUNDAY

67th Congress Expected To Be Extended To March 5

WILL SET NEW PRECEDENT

Closing Session Marked By Many Unusual Features

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)

WASHINGTON. — (United Press) — On Sunday, the 67th congress will have become a memory, a page in history.

Constitutionally, congress dies at midnight, March 3. But the exigencies of the session's close may make necessary a brief session Sunday, setting a new precedent in American legislative history. If it is deemed expedient, congress will recess, and, commanding the sun and moon to stand still, will meet Sunday as the 67th congress still Saturday, March 3.

Called into session early in 1921, after the advent of the Harding administration, this congress has been in practically continuous session during the two intervening years. It has upon its record some distinguishing marks, which include: It was the first congress in American history to hold four sessions, counting the special session of the senate, it held five.

SET NEW RECORDS
The senate set the record for the longest legislative day. This day was 38 calendar days long. It lasted from April 20 to August 2, 1922, during the tariff debate, and was brought to a close when the senate adjourned because of the death of Senator Crow, Pennsylvania.

It saw the death of three senators from one state—Knox, Penrose and Crow of Pennsylvania—a new thing in senatorial history.

It seated the woman who ever occupied a place in the senate, Mrs. W. H. Felton of Georgia, who by appointment was senator for a day following the death of Senator Tom Watson.

It saw three women occupying seats in the house.

But the 67th congress' real record was made up of less trivial, if less generally interesting, items than these.

It was remarkable almost as much for what it failed to do or refused to do as for what it did. Its record will be the battleground of the two major parties in the campaign of 1924.

The raise, growth and partial disintegration of the farm bloc was probably the most significant economic and political fact of the congress. This grouping of western and southern legislators in both houses in a loose bi-partisan organization to obtain legislative benefit to the farmer and livestock producer looked for a time as a major political development, threatening, in the eyes of some observers, to grow into a third party. The farm bloc made a great stir, but an examination of its legislative accomplishments leads to the conclusion that in the main it did not accomplish what it set out to do.

LEGISLATION FAILS
For a time it held the whip hand, or appeared to hold it, over the administration forces. It had a part in defeating some administration measures. But of positive accomplishments, it can boast only the passage of the packer control bill—a doubtful triumph, to quote some farm bloc members—and the revival of the war finance corporation as a means of giving farmers easier credit. This too, has since been damned with faint praise or openly criticized as having been beneficial to bankers rather than farmers. The major items on the farm bloc program of transportation bills and the restoration of the American farmers world market—were not accomplished.

Though partisan considerations, personal jealousies and hostile influences from outside largely broke down the blocs, solidarity in the closing days of the congress, it looked forward to the next congress with great expectations, largely because of accessions to its strength through the election of November, 1922, when the west and middle west elected farm bloc men to the places of some listed as conservatives in their respective parties.

Through the work of the farm bloc and other manifestations, the congress also was eloquent of a breaking down, congressionally and nationally, of the barriers and boundaries which have for generations marked the cleavage between the two leading parties. Partisan counts for less today in congress than at any time in American history. This congress went into power on the crest of a great Republican landslide in 1920, that was regarded everywhere as the result of the public's desire for a change. Republican leaders accepted it as an endorsement of their particular sort of party operation, and proceeded to meet the problems of the nation on their basis.

NEW LAWS
Nearly 500 new laws have been loaded on the public records by the 67th congress.

This is at the rate of approximately 250 new laws a year, for this congress has functioned almost continuously for two solid years. It is a record of more than 20 new laws a month—perilously near one per day.

And in spite of the amazing crop of laws which congress has enacted, it is nothing to the crop that was sown, but never came to harvest. In

CHARLEY, POLA ENGAGED AGAIN AFTER LOVE TILT

CHARLES CHAPLIN AND POLA NEGRI

Cupid Regains Throne In Hollywood When Chaplin and Miss Negri End Lovers' Quarrel and Engagement Ring Is Back on Finger of the Movie Queen

LOS ANGELES. — (Associated Press) — Cupid was king again in Hollywood today and romance lived anew for Pola Negri, Polish tragedienne of the silver sheet, and Charles Chaplin, screenland's most famous comedian.

Their troth plighted over again after a six hour desolate break, Miss Negri was "too happy to sleep" when she reannounced it in the small hours of today, and Mr. Chaplin was the typical "happiest man in the world" when he entered his limousine after a conference of reconciliation in which the new queen of make believe said he told her he "loved me and could not live without me."

Mr. Chaplin also denied to her that he had told a newspaper he was "too poor to marry just now; this is a worldly world and we've all got to stay busy and keep away from climates of sentiment."

It was that which precipitated the breaking of the engagement. Miss Negri read the accredited statement. Without reference to Mr. Chaplin, the agreement to wed was terminated abruptly.

TOLD BY REPORTERS
A typewritten statement said the newest star in America's movie capital considered herself "too poor to marry Charles Chaplin; he needs a wealthy woman." Tears, her own, not the applied glycerin of the profession, rolled down Miss Negri's cheeks as she typed the statement, which was handed newspaper men.

It was these newspaper men who informed Mr. Chaplin first of the breaking of his hopes.

Over the telephone they told him. Mr. Chaplin replied "oh, and is that so?" and abruptly the receiver in the Chaplin home clicked to its resting place. Even his best friends thereafter were barred from his doors.

Speculation was rife. Scores of reasons were advanced. There was talk of a rival, a Polish painter who was coming to California to build a home and for whom.

The lips of the little tragedienne trembled and her eyes filled with tears as she added to the typed statement, "there were a thousand things. It is another experience. I have learned. Now I will live only for my work. All the rest, the happy days, are dead to me. It is all over."

Charlie for the time was lost sight of. It was believed he was in retirement in his home thinking.

While the early night edition of morning papers in the Hollywood movie district heralded, in the selling talk of the newsboys, "Pola gives Charlie the air," Chaplin made his way to Miss Negri's retreat.

BROKEN LOVE REPAIRED
Just what happened then probably never will be given to the world in detail. But after midnight Chaplin went home with a smile on his face and Miss Negri, her finger again weighted with the platinum engagement ring she had removed a few hours previously, was contemplating her joy, "too happy to sleep," she said.

Miss Negri frankly admitted her happiness in "making up" after Chaplin had declared he never had made the "too poor to get married" statement. "Mr. Chaplin came to see me early and he stayed late," said Miss Negri. "I have taken him back and we are quite reconciled and engaged again. He swore to me he never had said he was too poor to marry me. He told me he loved me and could not live without me. And so, of course, I believed him, and have taken him back."

Rumors the two were engaged interested motion picture fans everywhere when they were first publicized November 25 last and the interest was maintained when the principals officially confirmed the rumors at Pebble Beach, Calif., January 28.

At that time Chaplin declared he was "the happiest man in the world" and Miss Negri indicated she was very well pleased indeed, with "Charlie" as she calls him. So everything seems to be running smoothly and, every body was expecting the date for the wedding soon would be set definitely until yesterday when Miss Negri issued her statement.

CHIEF INDICTED BY KLAN VOTE

Former Imperial Wizard Accused Of Mann Act Violation

HOUSTON, Texas. — (Associated Press) — Six members of the Ku Klux Klan are serving on the federal grand jury which indicted E. Y. Clarke, former acting Imperial wizard of the Klan, on a charge of violating the Mann act. Prior to swearing in the jury several days ago, Judge Hutchison questioned each man as to his possible connection with the Ku Klux Klan. The six said they were klansmen but denied that such membership would affect their judgment in cases where evidence of guilt was presented.

The indictment against Clarke yesterday gave few details concerning the charges made. It was understood the alleged violation occurred February 12, 1922. Clarke was in New Orleans at the time with Imperial Wizard Simmons, ostensibly in attendance on some meeting of Klan chiefs. He previously had been in Houston with Wizard Simmons, where it is alleged he met the young woman who is named in the indictment returned Wednesday.

Clarke's career as Klan chief and organizer has been turbulent. Charges of violation of the liquor laws have come up in court but no conviction has been obtained.

CLARKE CONFIDENT

ATLANTA, Ga. — (Associated Press) — While awaiting additional information concerning a warrant said to have been issued for his arrest in Houston—Texas, by a federal grand jury yesterday charging him with violation of the Mann act, E. Y. Clarke, former acting Imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, maintained an attitude of confidence that he would be fully vindicated when the matter goes to trial. The former high official of the Klan still was at liberty early today, no warrant having been received here for his arrest.

"It is simply another effort to attempt to discredit me and thereby discredit me the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan," Mr. Clarke asserted. He said that he had received no details regarding the true bill returned against him.

LIMA-TOLEDO RAIL BOND ISSUE DENIED BY STATE

GERMAN CITY OF BOCHUM FINED 35,000,000 MARKS

Penalty Exacted For Attacks On French And Belgians

SUM QUICKLY COLLECTED

French Troops Swoop Down On Town And Take Money

ESSEN. — (Associated Press) — The town of Bochum has been fined 35,000,000 marks for attacks by German civilians upon French and Belgian civilians.

The town of Kettwig, near Essen, where military telephone wires were cut, has been fined one million marks.

These fines are in accordance with an order by General Degoutte, French commander, that cities and towns throughout the Ruhr valley shall be held responsible for sabotage or other acts of disorder designed to hinder the French and Belgian armies of occupation.

German officials of such towns will be liable to arrest and trial by court-martial in serious cases.

The Bochum fine was collected quickly. French troops swooped down upon the Rathaus, took the amount and left.

OFFICIAL SENTENCED
In Dusseldorf, Herr Wenzel, assistant director of posts and telegraphs, has been sentenced to six months imprisonment. He is charged with being implicated in sabotage on the military telephone apparatus.

The French and Belgian forces of occupation are adding to their rolling stock for the operation of the German railroads. Yesterday at Muelheim, French troops seized 115 locomotives, 60 railroads of coke and thirty railroads of coal and took over the roundhouse and repair shops.

TAX WAR IS ON
DUESSELDORF. — (United Press) — The battle of wits in the Ruhr centered today on the issue of taxation.

Following announcement by the German government that all goods upon which taxes had been paid to the French and Belgians, would be confiscated by the civil authorities, General Degoutte announced the invaders' plan.

Collection of taxes on Ruhr products is the new Belgian scheme for securing a portion of the reparations payments they are missing thru occupation. General Degoutte today decreed such collections effective on all wines, tobacco and cigars sold in the occupied area. Hotels and citizens, who pay these taxes in defiance of their government's orders, will be given protection by the armies of occupation.

The situation narrows down to a shopkeeper being forced to decide whether, when he makes a sale of articles on the next tax list, he proposes to pay up to 40 per cent to the French and Belgians and run the risk of having the goods confiscated, or whether he chooses to refuse payment to the invaders and have them seize and confiscate the goods.

ASKS NEW TRIAL

Convicted Of Assault, Phillips
Alleges Error

Motion for a new trial for Alva Phillips, farmer, whose home is about five miles west of Lima on Marion road and who was found guilty of felonious assault upon Zelma Lippincott in common pleas court, was filed Friday.

The petition asking for a new trial alleges that errors had been made in admitting evidence and alleged other irregularities. The motion will probably be heard late Friday afternoon.

CANINE CONVOY FOR ST. MARYS MAIL MAN

A common sight in St. Marys daily is to see Albert Koch, city mail carrier, escorted by a convoy of dogs, while making his rounds.

Often as many as ten canines trail at his heels while he is delivering mail. Some of them follow a few squares, then return home, but are replaced by new squads.

The convoy is a conglomeration of stirs, colors and breeds. Koch says he doesn't encourage their friendship and is more embarrassed than pleased. But the dogs persist.

LONDON. — (Associated Press) — Two sons of a Spanish nobleman are gifted with "X-Ray eyes," according to an article in the Madrid Imparcial, quoted by the Daily Mail.

Tests have shown that the youth's abnormal vision enables them to read thru silver, brass or iron but they cannot see thru porcelain or paper.

U. S. WON'T ENTER PEACE PACT

Doesn't Seek Negotiations For Compulsory Arbitration

HUGHES REPLIES TO INQUIRY

Explains Situation With Reference To World Court

WASHINGTON. — (United Press) — The Harding administration has no intention of attempting to negotiate a treaty with the powers now participating in the permanent court of international justice, which would provide for compulsory arbitration of international disputes.

Secretary Hughes declared today in a letter to President Harding, which was sent to the foreign relations committee.

The Hughes letter was in reply to recent questions of the foreign relations committee regarding the recent letter of President Harding asking senate approval of American participation in the court.

Hughes frankly told the president that it would be futile for him to attempt to obtain compulsory arbitration agreements with other nations after becoming a member of the court, because the senate would not approve such action. The secretary referred to several instances in the last 25 years when the senate rejected the idea of compulsory arbitration.

ANSWER TO BORAH
The secretary replied mainly to the questions of Senator Borah, who believes that the nations of the world should set up some agency with wide powers to settle international disputes. By his letter, Hughes indicated that administration might favor the plan of compulsory arbitration and placed responsibility for any blocking of it on the senate.

The secretary stated that of the 46 nations which have signed the protocol of the court, about 15 have also approved an optional clause for compulsory arbitration. This latter clause, however, does not include the principal nations of the world, Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy not having given such approval.

WOULD NOT BIND U. S.
Hughes again declared that the ratification of the court protocol, by the senate would not impose on the United States any other obligations of the treaty of Versailles or of the league of nations covenant. This statement was made in response to a question as to whether entrance into the court would bind this country to observe the labor provisions of the league covenant.

In response to an inquiry as to whether any other nations had made reservations to the court protocol, Hughes said he knew of none.

Regarding compulsory arbitration, Hughes wrote the president:

"The senate has so clearly defined its attitude in opposition to such an agreement, that until there is ground for believing that this attitude has changed, it would be entirely futile for the executive to negotiate a treaty of the sort described."

"I may briefly refer to earlier efforts in this direction."

"If the senate, or even the committee on foreign relations would indicate that a different point of view is now entertained you might properly consider the advisability of negotiating such agreements."

Securities Sale Sought For Pur-

HOLDS PRICE IS TOO HIGH

Earnings Not Sufficient, Commission Asserts

The Lima-Toledo Railroad company was refused authority Friday by the state public utilities commission to issue $2,750,000 capital securities to purchase the section of the old Ohio Electric Railroad running from Lima to Toledo from Thomas Newhall, who bought the property last fall at a federal receiver's sale, according to dispatches from Columbus.

D. J. Cable, president of the Lima City Street Railway company, one of those interested in the Lima-Toledo company, said it had not been decided what action the company would take.

SEEK BIG BOND ISSUE
The Lima-Toledo company sought to issue $1,000,000 worth of common stock, $750,000 preferred stock and $1,000,000 in 25-year bonds at six per cent, in order to raise funds for the purchase.

The commission, in rejecting the application, held that past experience with this line shows its earnings would not be sufficient to warrant issuance of bonds and stock in the amounts requested to pay such a purchase price.

VOGT CASE WILL BE APPEALED

Cited Mayor Declares Procedure Is Unconstitutional

COLUMBUS. — (Associated Press) — Herbert H. Vogt, permanently removed as mayor of Massillon late yesterday by Governor Donahue after finding him guilty of misconduct, nonfeasance and gross and wilful neglect of duty while in office, was preparing today to appeal to the supreme court to have the chief executive's removal order set aside.

Former Attorney General Joseph McGhee, chief counsel for Mr. Vogt, said he would appeal to the highest tribunal on the ground that the law under which the removal procedure was taken is unconstitutional; that Vogt was denied a full public hearing and that the evidence was insufficient to remove.

P. L. H. Kirchhofer, who, as president of council, has acted as mayor since the suspension of Mayor Vogt on January 18, following the filing of charges against him by Massillon citizens, became mayor in fact of the city as soon as the suspension order was signed by Governor Donahue.

In the order of removal, Governor Donahue declared that the evidence adduced at the hearing before him which began on February 20 and continued for three days, showed the mayor "was guilty of nonfeasance in office and gross and wilful neglect of duty in office in that he did not enforce or in good faith try to enforce the laws."

The charge of misconduct was upheld; the chief executive said, by the fact that "when the chief of police was compelled to resign under public pressure, the said resigned chief was appointed to another position as policeman. Again, the new chief was forced to resign under pressure, whereupon the former chief of police was restored to his old position as head of the police department. Furthermore, the second chief of police who resigned, and subsequently restored in the police department at police headquarters."

POOL AND BILLIARD MAY BE BARRED FROM STATE

COLUMBIA, S. C. — South Carolina, the only state in the Union, which has no divorce laws, may soon have a law which would prohibit pool and billiard playing. The house of representatives of the general assembly yesterday passed and sent to the senate a bill which would forbid "operation of any billiard, pocket billiard, pool room or table in the state of South Carolina."

The measure was approved by a viva voce vote after a motion to strike out the enacting clause had been lost by a motion to reconsider the bill defeated 21 to 17 and another motion to rescind the bill failed.

Paving Fund May Be Used For Water Extensions At Delphos

NEW ANGLE SEEN IN PAVING WAR

Plan Service To Residents Of San Felice Addition

FIRE DISCLOSES ITS NEED

Council Awaits Petition From Property Owners

Extension of water lines to the San Felice addition, located in the extreme northeastern part of Delphos, and Jefferson-st., is seen as transfer of over $27,000 derived from sale of paving bonds to the board of sinking fund trustees becomes every day more of a certainty.

Legislation was completed last year for these extensions, consisting of both lines for private consumption and fire hydrants, but the matter was halted when city finances were attacked by a severe ague.

It will require only a petition from property owners at a meeting of city council March 13 to provide the impelling motive to transfer the funds, it is stated.

They have been directed to petition definitely "yes" or "no" at that time whether they want S. Main, S. Pierce and Cleveland-sts. improved. This issue was put up by council when it suddenly became confronted with a cut in interest from six to three per cent on the bond money.

Petitions were presented Tuesday, but the councilmanic eye detected flaws and ordered them back for re-amping.

The money matter has been dropped from the proceedings while council adjusts itself definitely on the question: "Do they want improvement of these streets, or not?"

Nothing further has been said about the interest matter, but city officials say if property owners declare they do not want the street improvement, it will follow as a necessary measure that the money will be transferred from the care of the city depository to the sinking fund trustees. It is understood that the depository has again offered to continue the six per cent rate.

Service Director Ed Spellman favors use of the money for the water-works extensions.

Need of better fire fighting facilities in the San Felice addition was brought to light during a fire at the Frank Brown home on Seventh-st. last week, where only a small part of the house would have been destroyed had the fire department worked under proper conditions, according to Fire Chief Frank Grothhouse.

Grothhouse has been an earnest advocate of more fire hydrants in the San Felice addition.

LIMA PRIEST PRAISES CONSTANCY OF PEOPLE OF DELPHOS PARISH

Speaking from the pulpit of St. John's Catholic church, Rev. Joseph Funk, O. C. of the Redemptorist priests from Lima who is conducting a two weeks mission, complimented men of the parish on their interest and also stated their participation in the sacraments has been up to expectations.

The mission will close Sunday. Missionaries have requested that all confessions be completed by 5:30 p. m. Saturday, for on Saturday evening will be one of the most solemn occasions of the mission.

Women of the parish had their mission last week. Over 1,000 of them participated.

RAIL CROSSING REPAIR AT DELPHOS TO START

Improvement of the First-st crossing of the A. C. & Y. railroad in Delphos will be followed by complete overhauling of three or four others. The city may co-operate with the railway company in permanently repairing the crossings.

Service Director Ed Spellman says Second, Third and Fifth-sts. all of which are paved, will be on the program. Repair of crosswalks parallel with the tracks has been suggested. The railway company has material on hand with which to begin the First-st improvement.

DELPHOS SERVER BEGINS SPRING STREET CLEANUP

Five loads of dirt was removed Thursday from Main-st between First and Fifth-sts in Delphos in a general cleanup that Service Director Ed Spellman has ordered on all paved thoroughfares in that city.

Accumulations of dirt are said to be greater than ordinary. Work was started Friday on Second-st. Isaac Fostertight is in charge of the work.

The accumulations in Main-st were out an assertion made some time ago by Spellman that a city ordinance be enforced, that streets would be kept cleaner. The ordinance applies to indiscriminate use of the main thoroughfare as a dumping place for dirt, paper and other material from stores.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR SIX MEN

Accused In Alleged Swindle Of Lima Merchants

Warrants for the arrest of three men, charged with having been implicated in an alleged swindle of Lima merchants, thru a motion picture publicity deal, were issued Friday morning in Police Judge Emmett Jackson's court.

The warrants were made out against M. P. Dennis, D. Vincent and G. R. Gregory, on behalf of Better Business bureau of the Board of Commerce.

Three warrants, calling for the arrest of J. E. Hamlin, 35, A. V. Hamlin, 33 and Fred G. Barber, 29, were issued Thursday night.

The specific charge is obtaining money under false pretenses, around $13 each from merchants.

About 25 local merchants are alleged to have had dealings with the accused men.

According to the statement of the merchants, the money was a down payment on 500 photographs of motion picture stars. They were to be given out to their customers as a part of an advertising scheme.

At the same time, a film was to be shown at the Sigma theatre telling patrons where to secure these photographs.

The pictures began to arrive Thursday and some of the merchants paid the balance due on them and some refused the shipment upon advice of the Better Business bureau.

None of the five men wanted in the case had been arrested Friday noon.

CUT IN DELPHOS LIGHT BILLS

Power Costs, Too, To Be Reduced Under State Order

Power and light bills becoming due March 20 will bear the reduction authorized by the state public utilities commission for the Northwestern Ohio Light company, Delphos, according to information received by Joseph Stewart, local manager, and given out Friday morning.

These bills cover meter readings on current consumed February 20 and March 20. As the company made application only a few days ago, the utilities commission made it slightly retroactive.

Besides Delphos, the reduction was made applicable in 20 other cities and towns supplied by the company.

Splitting of a 40 per cent surcharge allowed during the late war makes the reduction possible, Stewart said. The surcharge was reduced to 20 per cent, which means that after bills are figured only 20 per cent instead of 40 is added.

An instance of the saving which will be effected among large consumers — particularly factories — was cited Friday by Stewart when he declared that had the Delphos Bending Works been presented with a bill under the reduction ruling during January it would have meant $150 less. Other factories would have been saved corresponding sums.

The late reduction has nothing to do with the company's city franchise, officers say. It is operating under a franchise which will expire in 1927, but if affects street lighting only.

That the reduction is conducive to economical operation of industrial plants in the statement by Stewart, who declared Friday that the company is extending its scope by installing wiring, transformers and other paraphernalia for operation of the Hauthorst tile mill with electricity.

DELPHOS FIRE HYDRANT INSPECTION COMPLETED

Investigation of Delphos fire hydrants, conducted under supervision of Service Director Ed Spellman since the home of Frank Brown, San Felice addition, was partially destroyed last week, reveals that they are in fair condition, Spellman says.

Few were frozen up, he reported. The investigation was made after it was found that a hydrant on Sixth-st was frozen, delaying fire fighters at the Brown residence and causing more loss than would have been entailed under favorable circumstances the server declared.

R. E. ASHLEY TO ADDRESS "Y" MEN'S "Y. M." CLUB

R. E. Ashley, first president of the Lima Lions' club, will address the "Y's Men's" club at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night on "The Value of the Luncheon Club to the Community."

The dinner meeting tonight will close the charter membership campaign of the club and March 7 a local chapter of the international association of "Y's Men" will be installed here.

Visiting delegations from Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, Crestline and Mansfield are expected to attend the local installation.

Not Needed As Evidence, But Rum's Retained

That it has served its purpose as evidence in liquor cases, 30 gallons of confiscated hooch locked up in the vault at Delphos police headquarters bids fair to remain there longer. Chief of Police H. A. Kehres declared Friday no orders have been issued by Mayor J. K. Williams to destroy it, and it is probable it will remain until the administration changes.

A few gills of the stuff is still "alive" because of unsettled cases, but for the most part it is "dead issue," the chief said. Most of it was taken in a raid at the home of Alphonsa DeMeerleer, Belgian, north of Delphos.

Kehres asserted he is unaware of any law which provides for destruction of the evidence within a stated period.

The liquor is the butt of jokes among the visitors at City Hall. The vault is located in the lobby, formerly the mayor's room.

DELPHOS PEOPLE SOLVE INCOME TAX PROBLEMS

People are managing the intricacies of the income tax blank and indications point to the fact that in the near future they will not require outside assistance.

J. G. Marsh, deputy internal revenue, who remained in Delphos four days, assisting people with their blanks, is of this opinion. The matter of incomes is a much smaller bugbear than formerly, he says.

Marsh assisted hundreds with their blanks from Monday until Thursday afternoon. He was located during his stay at the Commercial, Peoples' and National banks.

Those who did not avail themselves of his help will seek assistance of lawyers' justices of the peace and others in like capacity. All income reports must be made by March 15.

CENTRAL HIGH HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ELECTS

Anna Katcha was chosen speaker of the House of Representatives, the newly formed organization of girls at Central High school, Thursday at the first election. Other officers elected are: Pauline Tilley, clerk, and Olive Parmenter, sergeant at arms.

The House of Representatives will use the same bills the Senate uses but it will act independently of the boys' organization. Its purpose is to train pupils in parliamentary proceedings.

17 SIGN AS MEMBERS OF LEGION AUXILIARY

Servicemen, wives, sisters and mothers of Delphos ex-soldiers and ex-sailors have so far had their names signed to the members roll of a women's auxiliary that is being formed as an adjunct to the Commemorative Post, American Legion.

A membership drive is being conducted by the auxiliary. It is proposed to effect an organization as large as the Legion post.

Several applications were reported at a meeting Thursday evening.

G. B. Franks, of near Hunksville, has in course of construction at his home a two-passenger airplane which he expects to have ready for flight about June 1. It is of the bi-plane type with a 50-horse power eight cylinder motor and Franks expects the entire plane to be built at a cost of $350.

DELPHOS HIGH LATIN CLUB TO STAGE PLAY AND ARRANGE PARTY

Program committee of the Delphos high school Latin club was instructed Thursday evening at a meeting in the auditorium of the Jefferson building to prepare a stage production and a party.

The latter event will be staged at Easter and the play about the same time.

Business session of the meeting also was devoted to completing the constitution of the club. A committee composed of Dorothy Long, Homer Williams and Mary Gorrell was appointed by the president, Miss Mary Steinfeld, to purchase suitable plans for the members.

Committee on selection of an appropriate motto also will be named by the president.

Entertainment section of the meeting included a piano solo by Catherine Armstrong, book review on "Ben Hur" by Gayland Hick, reading "International Auxiliary Language" by Dorothy Long and tidbits propounded in Latin, in which Miss Edna Griffin and Bertram McGinnis had charge of opposing teams.

The Latin club is under the supervision of Miss Edda Beller, Latin instructor.

MRS. JACKSON REPORTS ON SOCIAL SERVICE WORK

Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, director of the Social Service bureau, reported on February work to the Family Welfare association at the regular meeting Thursday night at the bureau's office.

Ernest Botkin, president, announced that he would appoint committees before the next meeting, March 15, in order to divide the work of the association among members.

The advisability of seeking a new location was discussed and a committee will be appointed to report, Botkin said.

DELPHOS MAN VOCALIST IN EVENT HELD AT GOMER

J. Ambrose Breese, musical director of Delphos public schools, sang the Welsh national air, "Land of My Fathers," Thursday night on the St. David's Day program at Gomer. The program was held after a 6 o'clock supper. Besides Breese, his mother, wife and Everett Scott were in attendance.

Delphos persons are expected to take part in observance of St. David's Day Friday evening in Van Wert.

FEAR DATES IN CONFLICT. CHORAL EVENT POSTPONED

Fear of the event conflicting with the K. of C. minstrel and several other events has caused the Delphos Choral society to abandon for the present its plan of staging a song-fest of some kind at Easter time.

Discussion of other plans will take place at a meeting soon, probably Sunday. J. A. Breese is being advocated as president of a permanent choral society. The present society was organized under auspices of the Kiwanis club.

MAY LOSE SIGHT OF EYE

Paul Lodge, a junior at Kenton high school may lose the sight of an eye as a result of accidentally throwing into it a chemical solution similar to lye while experimenting in the laboratories at the school there.

MORE EVIDENCE OF SPRINGTIME

Courting the danger of becoming monotonous by playing a one-string fiddle, the weatherman persisted Friday in dishing up conditions that were indicative of springtime.

The brand served was a fitting aftermath of the advent of the March Lamb and there is promise of still milder conditions tonight.

Spring birds are winging their way from the south and those who have a "hankering" for the great outdoors refused to remain hunched up after Old Sol started his ray machine Friday morning.

Fair and warmer tonight. Saturday increasing cloudiness. Colder Saturday afternoon in northwest portion. Much colder Sunday.

There you have it. The forecast is becoming more specific and looking farther into the future in dishing out the brand of conditions that are in prospect. Getting more confidence in himself, as it were.

However, a prediction of rain or snow, or blow or freeze since March is here cannot bring gloom to lovers of the spring season, for it is near and eventually will become a fixture for the period allotted by the calendar.

Amateur gardeners are making mental plans and those of a roving disposition are feeling the effect of the changing season. They are impelled to be up and away.

TRACK DEFECT DERAILS NEW CITY STREET CARS

One of the new one-man cars of the Lima Street Railway Company jumped the track on Main-st, in front of the court house at 1:30 Friday afternoon. No one was hurt. This is the third one-man car to jump the track at this place. Repairs are being made on the street in front of the court house and the removal of brick from the base of the rails is supposed to have caused them to spread.

DELPHOS AND LIMA MEN TO BOWL IN TOLEDO MEET

A combination team of Delphos and Lima bowlers has been picked to bowl March 29 in the A. B. C. meet at Milwaukee. Final selection was held up pending a sixth man, but the team is now in position to bowl in the doubles.

Glenn Shrider, Harry Brooks, Ed Bryan and Ed Clark are the Delphos pin topers and Chris Probst and Dave Miller the Limas who will attend.

GERMANY CAN GET ARMS APLENTY

Be Prepared For New War, European Experts Say

STILL MAKING WEAPONS

Big Plants Are Established In Other Countries

(BY HENRY WOOD)
GENEVA.—(United Press).—For the "new war" of the future, Germany is infinitely better prepared, and preparing, than the world in general, or even France in particular imagines.

This is the opinion of European military experts, who by reason of France's occupation of the Ruhr and the creation of a situation which they fear renders another war eventually inevitable, have been obliged suddenly to give Germany's preparedness serious consideration.

Under the terms of the Versailles treaty, the Allies have effectually disarmed Germany at least from the standpoint of the "old war." But while perfectly helpless and harmless from the "old war" basis, Germany is declared by European military experts to be remarkably strong, and getting stronger every day from the standpoint of the "new war."

The whole distinction lies in what the past war was and what the next war is going to be.

The Napoleonic wars were won by superior strategy in open warfare. This availed nothing in the last war and it was won by heavy artillery.

AIRPLANES AND GASES

The last war, before it ended, demonstrated that in the next war even heavy artillery will not be the deciding factor. Instead it will probably be airplanes and poison gases. And it is precisely in this progressive development of modern warfare, that the weakness of the "disarmament" of Germany under the Versailles treaty lies, and her present and future strength resides.

Nothing in the world, the military experts point out, can prevent Germany from preparing for another war on the "new war" basis.

German scientists, it is presumed, are still studying just as hard as ever over the problem of poison gases and there is no way in the world that the armies which may eventually have to face those gases can prepare a defense until once they have been used and the scientists of the opposing countries can develop something with which to safeguard and counteract.

MOVED WAR PLANTS

In the meantime while under the Versailles treaty the Allied military commission has general jurisdiction to prevent the manufacture of war material in Germany, it has no such jurisdiction outside. And the whole history of German big industrialism since the war has been to establish plants outside of Germany.

Virtually every big German industrial concern which was engaged in the manufacture of war material during the war now has plants in outside countries. Krupp, for example, has plants at Bofors, Sweden; Dornier has aviation plants at the seaport and at Pisa in Italy; Fokker and Veere have aviation plants in Holland; Zeiss, whose true instruments and glasses are so essential both to the artillery and aviation, has manufacturing in Holland.

Similarly, Stinnes and the other big groups have secured financial interests in the metal industries of nearly all the eastern European countries.

In other words, if Germany is temporarily prevented from manufacturing war material within her borders she already has almost unlimited possibilities outside of Germany.

Thus Germany it is declared could easily overcome her present handicap in the matter of aviation. For poison gases, she presumably is even now ahead of the other European countries.

But, if in addition to adequate preparation for the "new war" basis, Germany wanted to play doubly safe and prepare on the "old war" basis as well, military experts declare that she is already in a position to supply within six months the material necessary to put 40 divisions in the field and 100 within a year.

TALKS GIVEN BY LAUNDRY OWNERS

Ohio Association Members Hear Discussion Of Problems

ADVERTISE, MILLER URGES

Cincinnati Man Tells How To Increase Business

"Laundries must make themselves indispensable to the housewife," L. K. Bachr, Jr., Cincinnati, told 200 members of the Ohio Laundryowners association at the Elks' club in the second day's meeting of the twenty-seventh annual convention, Friday morning.

Bachr's talk led to further discussion by W. D. Pitch, La Salle, Ill.; C. S. Riley, Cincinnati; J. J. Durban, Columbus; C. W. Bonfils, and A. C. Behlan, Cleveland.

J. G. Sibert, Stout City, Ia., the "Billy Sunday" of the laundryowners, woke up the convention with a spirited talk on "Factory Management."

After discussion of Sibert's remarks, the convention adjourned to the front of the Elks' home to have a group picture taken.

Fred Warfel, president of the Michigan Laundryowners association, and J. M. Thacker, New York, will address the convention Friday afternoon.

NAMES COMMITTEES

Committees appointed by President R. W. Wood of Akron, are as follows: Resolutions, Clifton Taylor, Cincinnati; C. W. Bonfils, Cleveland; O. A. Snyder, Dayton; membership, J. J. Durban, Columbus; John Meister, Toledo; J. R. Robinson, Findlay; nominations, Nelson Shook, Lima; E. M. Goary, Steubenville; W. S. Lambert, Cleveland; Auditing, C. J. Tobias, Fremont; C. S. Jolley, Cincinnati; R. G. Snyder, Dayton.

William F. Long, manager of the American Plan association, Cleveland, was the chief speaker Thursday afternoon. He urged laundryowners to join the association, to fight against the "closed shop" campaign.

"We have neither the right to say to the applicant 'You can't work here if you've exercised your American right to organize,' nor can we say 'You can't work here unless you belong to the union,'" Long declared.

URGES ADVERTISING

H. H. Miller, assistant sales manager of the American Laundry Machinery company, Cincinnati, followed Long on the program, pointing out methods of increasing the laundry business. "Advertise for the family washing," was his advice.

William A. Biddle, advertising manager for the same company, outlined publicity campaigns for laundryowners.

Mrs. Grace Hollister of Lima, accused laundryowners of neglecting women. She is the "plaintiff" of the housewife of Lima before the members in plain language, pointing out several objectionable practices, the elimination of which would increase business," she declared.

C. P. Leisinger, Cleveland, president of the National Laundryowners association, told members of the activities of the National organization. The meeting closes Saturday.

FIRE TRUCK HITS FORD IN MAKING HURRY RUN

The hose truck from Central fire station crashed into a Ford car, in charge of H. E. Jamerson, West Mansfield, at the corner of West and Elm-sts at 8:30 p. m. Friday. Jamerson was cut and bruised by flying glass. The fire truck was being driven by "Chet" Ashton.

The touring car was badly damaged and the bumper knocked off the fire truck.

Firemen were answering a call to the home of Ralph Tuttle, 673 S. West-st, at the time of the accident. Crossed electrical wires caused small damage.

SHOOK IS CHOSEN HEAD OF LIMA LODGE OF ELKS

Nelson Shook, of the Shook Laundry company, was elected exalted ruler of the Lima Lodge of Elks, Thursday night.

Shook, who will be installed as leader of the local order in April, will succeed J. H. O'Connor, who was not a candidate for re-election. Shook was the only nominee for the office.

Edward F. Crevia was elected leading night; E. A. Johns, loyal knight; C. W. Riley, lecturing knight; Glen Robn, secretary; Harry B. Bolkins, treasurer; William Renz, trustee; William F. Getz, Tyler; J. H. O'Connor, representative to Grand Lodge; J. W. Beall, alternate.

Bolkins' election as treasurer is the sixteenth time. A banquet was served following the meeting.

GOOD CHANCE IS SEEN FOR SOUTH

Local Basketeers Draw Well In Bluffton Tourney

(BY MERRICK M. HILL)

The Lima News Sporting Editor, South High school's chances of winning the district basketball tournament, which started Friday morning at Bluffton college gymnasium, looked bright following the drawing of opponents.

Central on the other hand, drew opponents which indicate that the Red and Green team will have the hardest row to hoe of any of the teams entered in the meet.

South takes the floor at 2 p. m. with Lima as the first opponent. After this game, the Tigers are scheduled to meet St. Marys. Central drew Kenton as the first opposing quintet and this team is to be followed by Ada.

Coach Burdette's crew, it is believed, will experience little trouble in winning easily over both Lima and St. Marys and the South aggregation is practically assured a place in the final game of the tournament. Whether they win the last battle or not, the Red and Green outfit will take part in the state tournament in Columbus next week, as winners and runners-up in the district tourneys are entered in the state draw.

Coach Thibault will be compelled to drive his protégés at top speed against the two stiffer quintets entered in the meet outside of South, when they meet Kenton and Ada.

Central five takes the floor for the first time at 9 p. m. Friday. Kenton is not expected to defeat the "Long Green," but the caliber of the team will force the local lads to extend themselves. The next game against Ada is likely to prove Central's Waterloo. Ada defeated Central earlier in the season by a small margin and while Coach Thibault's outfit would have an even break in an ordinary game against Ada, the fact that the Red and Green is compelled to play the College Town five directly after playing Kenton, bodes ill indeed.

WILL ADMINISTER ESTATE

Mrs. Robinson is sole heir to the estate, appraised at $10,000. Two sons, Charles H. Robinson and Howard I. Robinson, are not named in the will.

AGED MAN MEETS DEATH GAMELY

Greets Columbus Execution Witnesses With "Hello Folks"

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)—Five applications of high voltage current, each of about a minute's duration were necessary before Henry White, negro, one of two men electrocuted at the Ohio penitentiary here early today, was pronounced dead by the prison physician.

Attaches of long service at the institution said that never before within their recollection was it necessary to apply the current five times. They recalled instances of three and four applications but never so many as five.

The other man, Charles Arnold, 65, one of the oldest men ever executed here, on entering the death chamber, greeted witnesses, newspaper men and guards, with a cheery "hello folks." Sitting down in the chair, he noticed Patroiman "Buck" Remmert, who arrested him for the murder of Mrs. Ruth Lawrence in her rooming house June 24, 1922, and said, "My God, Buck, are you here?" These were his last words.

WOMAN CHOKED, ROBBED

COLUMBUS — Mrs. Lawrence was choked and robbed of $17. Before she died she said "Charles Arnold killed me." Arnold had previously roomed at Mrs. Lawrence's home.

White was convicted of the murder of his wife, shot to death in their home on February 11, 1922. He escaped and was captured in Cleveland. Returning to Columbus with detectives he confessed but later retracted his statements.

Warden Thomas was absent from the electrocution for the first time in many years. He is ill. Deputy Warden J. P. Woodward officiated in his stead.

HIDDEN TREASURE IS SOUGHT

Party To Hunt $5,000,000 In Gold Buried In New Mexico

ANCIENT STORY REVIVED

Wealth Left In Mountains By Frenchmen in 1620

WICHITA, Kas. — (Special) — In quest of $5,000,000 in gold, buried three centuries an adventurous party will start early this spring from Wichita to the rarely penetrated mountains of New Mexico on a treasure hunt beside which the romance of "Treasure Island" and Captain Kidd seem common-place.

Paul Marjot, French Canadian and former employee of the United States Geological Survey, and Dr. Claude G. Baker, wealthy Wichita dentist and Marjot's financial backer, will be the principals in the expedition.

An ancient tale, gleaned from the black-letter text of old French documents and records and hinted at in obscure and forgotten histories, gave the treasure seekers their knowledge of the rich gold cache.

Says the tale—which history verifies: In 1620 the French government, then in control of the vast tract known as the Louisiana territory, sent a party of 300 to explore the land between Louisiana and the Pacific.

They went up the Rio Grande valley and traveled inland. Running out of water, they turned back toward the river. They found territory which evidently had been the scene of volcanic disturbance.

Scattered about on the ground and in cracks and crevices in the rocks, they found gold. Almost pure gold. It was everywhere.

But before they could get away with the metal, the Frenchmen were attacked by Apaches. They beat the savages off. But fearing another raid, they buried the gold.

The Apaches returned with reinforcements. They slew all the Frenchmen save two. These escaped, made their way back to France and told their story at the French court.

Greedy for the yellow metal, the king sent a powerful expedition to recover it. But the expedition never was heard from. The ship doubtless went down at sea with all hands.

But this tale is not the only clue to the treasure. In 1898 two shepherds were watching their flocks grazing in the rough region near Yuni, N. M.

Suddenly the staff of one of the shepherds sank into the ground. Quickly the two men began to dig.

A deep shaft was disclosed. Half way down, it was barred by a large, flat rock. The shepherds threw this aside. In the dark passageway they could see two heavy wooden doors with iron bars. At the pit's bottom lay an object resembling an iron crucible. An ancient rawhide ladder crumbled when they touched it.

Terrified, the superstitious shepherds closed the pit and never again visited it. But they told their discovery to a Spaniard who repeated it to Marjot when he was exploring New Mexico for the United States Geological Survey.

The same shepherds, say Marjot and Baker, will serve as guides in the present expedition. They are certain the mysterious pit contains the French gold.

"I'm convinced we'll find the treasure," says Marjot.

"So am I," says Baker.

TOPICS OF THE DAY MADE EASY

As to the Ruhr—Nations' Nerves Bad—What China Owes—Current Events of The Week Briefly Told for Students and Adults

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

American public opinion seems to have come over to France's side to a considerable extent since the Ruhr was invaded.

At first the seizure appeared to be regarded very doubtfully here, evidently on the theory that it probably would disturb world business again, with everybody but France wanting it quiet.

Now a great deal of sympathy is being expressed with the French policy.

This doesn't mean that American "big business" has changed its mind but only that the average individual's changed his.

It may influence the Washington administration some, and prevent Germany from getting moral support she was hoping for, but it won't help the French much.

England, which is a good deal nearer to the "situation" and has a lot more to say about it than the United States, certainly doesn't want France's Ruhr venture to succeed. True, they do say the British have been changing over to the French side, too, but the British press doesn't sound like it. The more it talks about the French course, the more pessimistic it gets.

Anyway, it's against nature. England is always, not perhaps the open enemy of the strongest continental European nation, but at least opposed to it. It's been the same ever since she became a first class power.

Against Spain, against France, against Russia, against Germany, in turn. Now it's France again.

The British consider the French dangerous already. If they "get away" with their Ruhr enterprise they'll be still more so.

England isn't going to permit any such thing if she can help it.

Not that the British want the Ruhr trouble to develop into another war. That would be too disastrous. But it's better than an even bet that their England's thinking, the whole thing will drift into a hopeless deadlock, and then there'll be mediation, and the windup won't be any too favorable to France, the possibly got to Germany, either.

WHAT AN UNPLEASANT THOUGHT

A news agency made a rather unpleasant suggestion the other day. It was this:

Suppose America got into a war—for instance with Japan. Presumably she'd want all the countries which owe her money to pay up promptly. Quite likely she'd be so anxious she'd offer liberal discounts if they'd hasten their settlements. It would pinch them, of course, but they could afford to be pinched if they got favorable terms enough.

Just that little bit doesn't amount to enough to get suspicious of other countries over, lest they stir somebody to start trouble with us.

All the same, it's been noted that wars sometimes are "framed up" for just such reasons.

For example, only a day or two ago Dean Inge, the popular London pulpit orator, made the public charge that "public passion is being looked up in America for a gratuitous attack on Japan," the kind of remark that isn't calculated to make the Japanese like us.

It's an unpleasant thought that there may be interests that would look to profit by it if America were involved in a serious conflict.

NATIONAL NERVES ALL JUMPY

There have been plenty of small-sized labor troubles in this country of more importance in themselves than the little frontier squabble between Poland and Lithuania.

Of course the reason this petty disturbance attracts so much attention is the fear that some country a good deal bigger—meaning Russia—will break into it. An incident seemingly of more consequence served as the signal for the World War to start.

It isn't likely that this spark will touch off any such explosion, but it just goes to show how jumpy the world's nerves are that it should cause so much worry.

IT'S HARD ON CHINA

America, England, France and Japan are finding fault with China because she's a trifle behind in meeting some of her foreign financial obligations.

Nobody—creditors excepted—who's familiar with the conditions under which China gets her loans can help sympathizing with her a little for having to pay, not so much the principal, as the interest on what she has to borrow abroad.

In the first place, she's always charged a pretty stiff rate—generally around 6 or 7 per cent, which is high for a government.

But the main point is that, having no recognized money unit of her own, whatever China borrows she gets in silver, at its market price at the time the loan's made.

By an odd coincidence—which international financiers may be able to explain, however—every time a loan is paid over to her the price of silver chances to be very high, so that the bankers making the loan have to give her comparatively little of it, and every time she pays any of it back the price is very low, so that she has to give her creditors a great deal.

In this way, probably it wouldn't be far off the way to guess that she pays 12 or 15 per cent, on an average, for her foreign borrowings.

WORLD LEAGUE AGAIN

President Harding's advocacy of American participation in the League of Nations' world tribunal came so suddenly that a little time was needed to let the idea sink in.

Probably most people will wonder "how come" the president didn't spring his scheme until after it was too late to amount to anything in the Sixty-seventh Congress and yet did spring it too soon for the Sixty-eighth.

And echo or something is liable to answer that maybe the administration was afraid of Senator Borah's plan to stomp the country all summer in favor of an interna-tioned court, and hoped, by the presidential announcement, to buy in the head of the senator's drum.

BANKER TAKEN IN DEATH OF THREE

Philadelphia Clubman Accused Of Running Auto Into Crowd

TWO WOMEN, MAN KILLED

Financier Charged By Police With Reckless Driving

PHILADELPHIA — (Associated Press) — Two women and a man were killed early today when an automobile traveling at a high rate of speed, crashed into them as they were alighting from a street car in west Philadelphia.

The driver of the machine did not slacken his speed but rushed away as his victims were hurled fifty feet from the spot where they were struck.

Twenty minutes later Henry G. Brock, banker, clubman and member of a widely known Philadelphia family, was found four blocks from the scene of the killing standing beside a blood-spattered motor car, wrecked against a pole. He was arrested by the police in connection with the accident. He was said to have been drinking.

Brock was taken to a police station and a police surgeon who, after an examination, reported that while he was undoubtedly under the influence of liquor, he was fully capable of driving an automobile. A charge of reckless driving was lodged against him.

DEATHS CHARGE Brock said that he was at the home of a friend at St. David's, a suburb, and was driving home. He said he had some musty old ale while there.

"Why I didn't hurt anybody," he said. When the police told him that a piece of fur and a woman's barrette were found on the car, he insisted he was not guilty of the accident. "I won't talk, anyway, until my lawyer gets here," he then declared. The lawyer advised silence.

Brock who is 36 years old is a member of the banking firm of Sinkler and Brock. After being locked in the cell he sat on the bench with his head buried in his hands.

HARVEY SOOTHES PUFFED FEELINGS OF BRITONS

LONDON—Any British feelings that may have been ruffled by Ambassador George Harvey's remarks Wednesday about the British debt were probably completely soothed by Harvey's warm reference to the Prince of Wales at the American University dinner last night. The dinner was in the prince's honor. Hailing Wales as the "white prince," the American ambassador proposed the toast and declared that from the moment the prince first visited the United States Americans have felt an increasing desire to acquire some proportion of proprietorship in him.

Replying the prince said: "When we get together like this we bring out each other's good points and come out better Anglo-Saxons than when we went in."

JURY FOR BURNS MURDER TRIAL NOT YET COMPLETED

PAINESVILLE — The last day of the murder trial of Henry D. Burns of Cleveland, charged with beating his wife, Hazel, into unconsciousness and burying her in a shallow grave near Mentor, Ohio, last October, today entered its fifth day without completion of a jury.

Eighty-three veniremen have been examined since the trial opened Monday. The jury box has been filled four times, several prospective jurors being excused on peremptory challenges of the defense or state.

Of those excused a majority either were opposed to capital punishment or to conviction on circumstantial evidence.

The defense has exercised four of its sixteen peremptory challenges and the state one of four. There were eleven tentative jurors in the box when today's session of court opened. A new venire the fifth, was summoned.

SECOND HERRIN MASSACRE TRIAL IS ON AT MARION

MARION, Ill.—Opening statements to the jury in the second Herring massacre trial were presented today.

The state, making its second attempt to convict alleged members of the mob that killed 21 non-union workers at the Lester strip mine last June, brought six men to trial on the specific charges of murdering Antonio Molokovich, world war veteran.

Two of the defendants in the present trial were acquitted of murder charges in the first massacre trial. Otis Clark, one of these men, is indicted on seven additional charges of murder, each of which attorneys for the state say will be prosecuted.

INJURED MAN'S EYE IS REMOVED AT HOSPITAL

Condition of Clyde Haman, 30, boxing promoter of Wapakoneta, who was seriously injured when a machine in which he was riding crashed against a tree one mile south of Lima, early Thursday morning, was reported greatly improved Friday by attaches at St. John's hospital where he was taken following the accident. It was said necessary to remove his right eye.

LAWMAKERS MAY WORK SUNDAY

the two years of its life, the House got nearly 15,000 bills, and the senate about 5,000. Out of all these, the two houses put through slightly fewer than 500.

This does not include a large number of resolutions, and so-called private laws, which relate to claims against the government and similar matters not affecting the country as a whole.

Lost in the legislative jam of a filibustering congress is the bill which would have revised, consolidated, reclassified and re-tenanted all the permanent laws of the United States.

This measure, compiled under direction of Congressman Edward C. Little, Kansas, chairman of the House Committee on Revision of the Laws, brought into one volume of 1262 pages the statutes now scattered through 41 volumes of conflicting federal law.

"To be sure of the law," Little says, "one must hunt through every one of these volumes of statutes, enacted since codification of the old revised statutes in 1874."

HEIRS TO $500,000.000 FIGHT FOR FORTUNE

CHICAGO — The "heirs" to the $500,000,000 Springer estate, which includes most of the city of Wilmington, Del., met here today to plan legal proceedings to gain control of the fortune.

Mrs. Mary Springer McMahon, Cedar Rapids, Ia., announced a nation-wide organization of heirs would be formed to fight for the property, which she declared was wrongfully kept from the rightful owners for nearly 200 years. Mrs. McMahon claims that an imperfect lease caused the loss of title to the heirs and declared that at the proper time, proof supporting her contention would be made.

"Charles Christopher Springer, holding royal patent of 1,500 acres in the heart of Wilmington, died in 1738," Mrs. McMahon said. "This is the land we claim. It is now occupied by office buildings and large merchandising houses."

NEW TURBINE FOR ADDED POWER IN LIMA SERVICE TO BE INSTALLED IN MAY

Installation of a 4,000 kilowatt turbine generator in the Western Ohio Railway company power plant in St. Marys, to afford additional current for light and power in Lima, is to be made in May, it is announced.

The unit for the production of 60 cycle current is equal to something over 5,000 horse power, it is stated. The machine weighs 110 tons and will add 15,000 horse power of energy to the output of the St. Marys plant.

Current of 25 cycle generated by the company's present turbines is distributed in this city, after its frequency is changed to 60 cycle. This flow of current will be cut off when the new turbine is installed. Lima will benefit in the addition of about 1,000 k. w. h.

BIDS ASKED FOR MATERIAL FOR STREET RAILWAY WORK

Bids for material to be used in strengthening our curves to facilitate landing of traffic on the Lima City Street Railway company's tracks being received and work will begin about May 1, it was announced Friday by officials. Construction work awaits only the arrival of material, which must be built to fit the special needs of the tracks in the public square.

This work will cost about $25,000, it was said. J. S. Clark, engineer from the Cleveland office of the Bethlehem Steel company, was in Lima Friday to prepare the construction.

"The company is prepared to lay new tracks over the L. E. & W. railroad viaduct and south to the Cleveland Motor company's plant as soon as the viaduct is completed, officials announced. Other work to be taken up early in the year includes the laying of new tracks on the Main-st. line from the Ottawa river north to the Pennsylvania railroad.

SECRETARY FILL BIDS FAREWELL TO CABINET

WASHINGTON—Secretary of the Interior Fall today bade his fellow cabinet members farewell, as he rose from the cabinet table for the last time after today's session and left the White House to resume his private career.

Secretary Fall will shortly return to his home in New Mexico, where he will devote himself again to his large business interests in the southwest.

Following today's meeting the last of the present session of congress, the cabinet faces a recess of more than a month, due to President Harding's absence in Florida, where he goes next Friday with Mr. Harding for a long delayed vacation.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and runs it.

The best thing for steady use is Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonsfuls of Multisided in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Multisided in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff, and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It is very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisided.—Adv.

HANGING OF YANKS BRANDED FALSE

Watson's Charges Of Death in France Denied

SENSATIONAL CASE ENDED

Unanimous Finding Reported By Senate Probers

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The sensational chapter of senate history revolving around a charge by the late Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers were executed without trial in France, was closed today when the committee appointed to investigate, reported unanimously that it had found the charge unfounded.

The committee's findings were embodied in a report scarcely a dozen lines in length. It stated merely the allegations of Senator Watson were "not sustained by the testimony."

In a special report, Senator Ernest Kentucky, also declared unfounded the charge which came before the committee during its hearings that Major H. J. Ople of Virginia had shot his orderly.

COUNTRY STARTLED Senator Watson's original charges were made in a series of senate speeches in November, 1921, during which he started the country by submitting photographs which he said portrayed gallows on which American soldiers had been hanged without legal process.

He also exhibited letters he said he had received from former service men declaring that illegal hangings and shootings had taken place while the army was in France.

ALIMONY UNTAXED AS INCOME

However, Breach Of Promise Money Must Be Reported

COLLECTOR'S EXPLANATION

Damages For Defamation Of Character Not Taxed

Did you receive alimony during the year 1922? Were you successful in a breach of promise suit entered against a former admirer?

Personal questions, very, but important to those to whom they apply in the preparation of an income tax return for the year 1922, according to John Marsh, local collector.

Amounts received as alimony are not taxable income. Such payments do not have to be included in the income tax return of the person receiving them, nor may they be deducted from the gross income of the person paying them. In this respect, payment of alimony may be likened to a personal or living expense, which is not deductible. However, a woman who has won a breach of promise case, or has accepted out of court a settlement as heart balm, must include the amount in her income tax return. The Bureau of Internal Revenue has ruled in such cases that the amount received "is not to be regarded as a return of capital, since the benefits of which the injured party was deprived were merely anticipatory."

Members of a labor union may deduct as a business expense dues paid to such organizations during the year 1922. Such dues are held by the Bureau to be necessary expenses incident to the earning of their wages. A member of a labor union who, while on strike, receives payment from an organization must include in his income for the year such items.

The taxpayer who in 1922 recovered damages for defamation of personal character need not include in his return such amount, inasmuch as it has been held to be non-taxable income. The Revenue Act specifically exempts amounts received thru accident or health insurance, or under workmen's compensation acts as compensation for personal injuries or illness, plus any additional amount received by suit or agreement in such cases.

To avoid penalty, returns should be filed on or before midnight of March 15.

STATE IS AT WAR OVER DUKE

North Carolina Divided On Tobacco King's Demands

SPECIAL TAX LAW SOUGHT

Millionaire Objects To Present Day And Stays Away

(BY H. C. FORBES)

RALEIGH, N. C. — (Special) — One part of America doesn't know what's agitating the minds of other parts.

I don't believe for example that Chicago, or San Francisco, or New York, or Boston, or Philadelphia has the slightest knowledge of what the burning question in a section of the south today is.

I didn't know until I struck North Carolina. The burning problem, fitting enough, a tobacco leader, the tobacco leader of America, in fact, namely James Buchanan Duke, known the world at large as James B. Duke, but known to the south as Buck Duke.

Mr. Duke is very rich. I imagine he is really worth about a hundred million dollars. The South, however, with its customary generosity, gives Mr. Duke a fortune of three hundred millions. What's a few hundred millions more or less among friends?

I arrived in this part of the world—I'm telegraphing this from North Carolina—too late to be in at the beginning of the rumpus; so I've had some difficulty in getting at the bottom of what it's all about.

Apparently, however, North Carolina has and for many years has had some tax law that Mr. Duke doesn't like. So long as he stays outside the state he escapes this tax law. But Mr. Duke has built himself a palace in Charlotte, North Carolina, and is anxious to come and take up his residence in it.

But by becoming a resident of North Carolina Mr. Duke would render himself liable to this tax. Evidently, it isn't a terribly crushing tax, for all it yielded last year was $150,000.

But Mr. Duke, I happen to know of my own knowledge, worries a great deal about taxes, both about the taxes he has to pay while alive, and the taxes his estate will have to pay when he dies.

So a special law is proposed which would be pleasing to Mr. Duke and the newspapers say would land him as a citizen of North Carolina, which was I think his native state.

This proposed law is creating more stir than prohibition, or the boll weevil, or the season's tourist crop.

The whole land has divided itself into pro-Dukes and anti-Dukes. And aren't they waxing excited.

Take the Raleigh News and Observer. It is ordinarily a quiet, dignified high toned newspaper. You will be ready to believe this when you know that it is owned by Josephus Daniels, who was secretary of the navy in the last administration.

But, oh, how, this staid newspaper is letting itself go over the Duke matter.

In one issue I counted eleven editorials, short or long, on the subject.

Read this as a starter: "If Mr. Buck Duke or any other prospective rich citizen is exempt from taxation the tax must be paid by others. The Parker amendment should read: "A bill to compel the average man to pay all the taxes so the super-rich man may be exempt."

"The question goes to the very foundations of justice and equality. There were Tories in North Carolina in 1776, who thought it better to pay the tax on tea than go to war. They saw not the living principle beneath the tax question. But the patriots of that day felt and were ready to die for liberty and equality. They are remembered and honored. What do we think of the Tories who were ready to sacrifice a principle to save their skin or to please a king?"

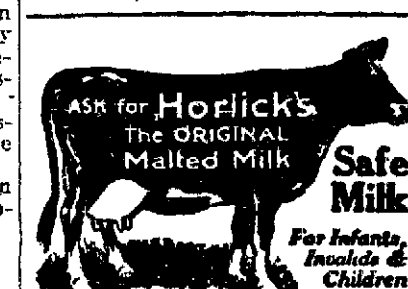

"If North Carolina sells its faith in equality before the law in taxation the mess of pottage will be dearly bought. The state has never lent the pregnant hinges of the knee to special privilege in order that thrift may follow fawning."

"Are we ready to follow in the footsteps of the Tories of the days of the revolution?"

Now are such controversies regrettable, deplorable? Not at all.

General vigilance is the price of freedom and democracy. It is well that citizens of every state take a keen searching interest in local as well as national law-making. It is well also for their own sake or at least for the sake of their children that the very rich be not allowed to arrogate to themselves too many privileges.

GAS ROUTE POPULAR WITH ENGLISH PEOPLE

LONDON—So great has become the suicide-by-gas mania in England that a move is on foot to mix an irritant with the illuminant. Gas is way ahead in the list of methods for self-inflicted death. Boy and girl lovers have been found with their heads in the same oven. Despondent unemployed save for days to amass the money to rent a room in a cheap lodging house for one night inhaling the mixture.

Gas is becoming the English "buggy." It kills quietly, painlessly and frequently.

FUTURE PROTECTED IN TEACHING CHILDREN

CHICAGO—Teaching of safety to the children of today will prevent accidents tomorrow. Only through education can the annual accident toll of approximately 75,000 fatalities be cut down.

George Earle Wallis, editor of the National Safety News, declared: "Safety thinking must become second nature." Wallis said. "A child should be so inculcated with the fundamentals of safety that as it grows up it will do the safe thing unconsciously. "The human element is now the most frequent cause of industrial accidents. Perfection of safety devices has cut the number of accidents due to defective or dangerous machinery to a point close to the irreducible minimum. "Safety must be taught in the schools, so that the industrial workers of this future will instinctively refrain from doing unsafe things. "Schools in nearly three hundred cities now have more or less thorough courses of safety. This teaching has already showed its effect."

If you are a constipation victim you need Bran that is ALL BRAN

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is so delicious and inviting that thousands of families use it constantly to make enticing bakery batches, such as bran muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, etc.; they eat it as a cereal, and many sprinkle it on their favorite cereal, its nut-like flavor having a fine appeal.

Many more thousands of people eat Kellogg's Bran every day of their lives because it has permanently relieved them of constipation and the dangers of dreaded diseases that constipation leads to. If you are suffering with constipation you need ALL BRAN—Kellogg's Bran—with its permanent corrective qualities. Foods that are part bran can never give the desired relief because they do not contain sufficient of the elements that Kellogg's Bran naturally contains.

When you know that constipation heads directly to Bright's disease and other ailments, there is no time to be lost in experimenting. Kellogg's Bran, delicious in its patented cooked and krumbled form, becomes an immediate necessity. If it is eaten regularly (two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with each meal)—it will relieve constipation permanently! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran. It will free you from proprietary pills and cathartics which are as system-racking and almost as dangerous to health as constipation itself. Serve Kellogg's Bran regularly. Watch the health of your entire family improve. It is wonderful for children. Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

HOME LIFE MENACED

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded women by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, of all which are perfectly justified if not abused and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and social life, to take on outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for lack of strength or same ailment develops because of overwork. Weak and ailing women will do well to remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, and let it help them.—Adv.

PLAY TONIGHT BY TROUBADOURIANS

"Come Out Of The Kitchen" At Central High

STRONG CAST IS CHOSEN

Events Of Interest To Friends Of School

"Come Out Of The Kitchen," a clever little comedy by A. B. Thomas, to be given in Central high school auditorium Friday evening by the members of the Troubadour Dramatic society, bids fair to be an exceptionally good presentation of dramatic art. The committee has chosen the story written by Alice Duer Miller.

The story of the play, in which Ruth Chatterton, star of "Daddy-Long Legs," played for so long on the legitimate, is an interesting one. It concerns the Daingerfield family. The father and mother are traveling in Europe, at the time of the story, because of the state of health of Daingerfield. The four children are left to keep the Daingerfield mansion in Virginia and become possessed for money. They finally decide to rent the home for six weeks to a Northerner, who insists they discharge their colored servants and employ white ones. At the last moment, the servants fail to put in their appearance as unknown to the Northerner, the four Daingerfield children pose as the servants. Then the fun begins and the story ends when the Northerner, portrayed by William Kirk, becomes engaged to the cook, played by Miss Dorothy Lawson.

The cast is as follows: Olivia Daingerfield, Miss Jane Elton; Dorothy Lawson; Barton Crane, from the North; William Kirk; Elizabeth Daingerfield, Miss A. A. Minton; Maria Herrick; Mrs. Pauline Tucker, Miss Elton; Martha Dillane, Cora Faulkner; her daughter, Marian Young; Amanda, Olivia's black mammy; William Bowyer; Thomas Lotters, a statistical poet; Robert Shaffer; Solon Tucker, Crane's attorney and guest; Donald Friedley; Paul Daingerfield, Miss Smithfield; Robert Pew; Charles Daingerfield, Miss Brindley; Sheldon Ackerman; Randolph Weeks, agent of the Daingerfields; Alfred Dexter.

Miss Lora Shumaker, faculty advisor of the society, is directing the play.

The "C" association of Central high school held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon after school. Formation of a track team was the biggest item for discussion and it is expected that Central will be represented this year with a crack outfit.

Organization of the House of Representatives was brought to a finer point with the adoption of a constitution at the meeting Thursday evening.

This body, composed entirely of girls, is expected to rival the boys debating body, the Senate, in forensic battles. Although it is quite young at the present time the club should be one of Central's best organizations in future years.

The Bluffon tournament was the main topic of discussion at the regular Thursday afternoon mass meeting, held at Central.

Russell Frey, president of the athletic association was in charge of the meeting and introduced Walter Seeley and Bob King, members of the team, who spoke concerning the tournament. R. P. Edmiston, professor of chemistry also told of the tournament and urged all to do their best in helping the team to come out victorious.

Central's musical body, the orchestra, held weekly practice Thursday evening in the library. Several new selections, both popular and classical, have been studied and they are expected to be given at the Dramatic club play Friday evening.

Tryouts for the Senior play were completed Thursday night. Several good prospects are in evidence for each part and it is believed that the achievements of the graduating class.

WOULD BAR FESS FROM SEAT

Democratic Leader To Protest Entrance To Senate

WASHINGTON—(United Press)

—D. K. Hempstead, Wilmington, Saturday will protest the seating of Senator-elect Simon D. Fess, he announced today.

The formal protest charges fraud and misrepresentation in Fess' election as a senator. Hempstead declared. The protest will be filed tomorrow.

Hempstead, acting secretary of the Democratic national congressional committee, was active in the campaign of Alice Pomerehne, Fess' opponent.

Fess' credentials have been accepted by the senate.

Unless Hempstead is able to show convincing proof of irregularities in Fess' election, he likely will fail in any attempt to create an "Ohio Newberry case."

GOOD FAREWELL TO WASHINGTON LIFE

Many Veterans in Congress Retire With This Week

GREAT CAREERS ARE NOTED

"Fortune Of War To Men In Politics," Their Attitude

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)

WASHINGTON — (United Press)

Farewells to the political life of Washington are now being said by a comparatively large group of the outstanding men in Congressional life during the last decade.

Some were going back home at the order of the voters. Others just decided to quit.

Heading the list of those voluntarily retiring is the veteran, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, a member for 46 years. Another notable figure who will pass off the stage here is "Joe" Fordney of Michigan, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who has served 12 consecutive terms. House Republican Leader Mondell, having failed to win election to the senate, retires after 13 consecutive terms.

Then there are those senate veterans—Gutherson, Tex., McCumber, N. D., who have served since 1899, Page, Vt. who has been here since 1898; John Sharp Williams, Hittchcock, Townsend and Poindexter, who have served since 1911, and several others who are leaving after one term.

The House also will lose its veteran dry legislator, Rep. Volstead, and Rep. Campbell, Kan., who has worked up to the chairmanship of the powerful rules committee.

Scores of others will not be in the new Congress, among them "Aunt Alice" Robertson, the lady from Oklahoma.

Mingled with the "Good by, good luck" which friend extends to friend in the halls of congress, is this query:

"Do you think you will ever come back?"

It is a time of farewells, the breaking of ties which it hurts to break, and for some men the curtain which marks the finish of the great drama in which they have been actors.

"Are you sorry to go?" was the question put to men like Hittchcock, Pomerene, John Sharpe Williams—who retires voluntarily—McCumber, Poindexter and New.

"Yes and no," said Senator Hittchcock, who leaves behind him the memory of a charming personality, a great friendliness and marked ability. "Of course, it is a wrench to give up the life to which one has grown accustomed. But it is something to have lived that life, and even when a man is beginning to get old, there is spice in variety. It will be good to watch, just as it was good to be in there trying to help."

"Sorry?" said John Sharpe Williams. Not a bit of it. Only sorry I didn't do it before. Of course, there are friends I will miss, but they will be friends still."

GLAD OR SORRY?

Senator Pomerene smiled. Pomerene came to the senate with a reputation for being scarcely human, in the sense that he was considered cold and withdrawn from common mortals. No one around the senate found him that, but instead a friendly genial man with a ready smile.

"You remember," he said, "that you wrote a story one time about my political motto being, 'You never can tell?' Well, that's true; you never can tell exactly whether you are going to be glad or sorry. I will be decidedly glad to get back to my law books. I've had my little share in the senate's work, and for that I am glad."

It was so with all of them. If they felt disappointment over being defeated in the election, they did not show it. "It is the fortune of war to men in politics, everywhere," was their attitude.

And there you have both sides of the goodbye season in Washington.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, give such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.—Adv.

WOMEN TAKE PART IN POLITICS

Mrs. Gifford Pinchot To Make
Tour in Next Campaign

TO SPEAK IN DES MOINES

Is Credited With Large Share Of Husband's Success

(BY HARRY HUNT)
WASHINGTON — (Special)—Are women taken seriously in politics? Ask Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the man who upset the powerful "C. O. P." organization in Pennsylvania and is now progressive governor of the Keystone state.

Mrs. Pinchot, everybody concedes, had a sizeable hand in her husband's success. She campaigned for him. That she was taken seriously—that what she had to say counted more than the fact that she was a woman—she declares was proved by the fact that, not once in all the publicity given to her meetings were her clothes described.

LIKES STARTLING EFFECTS
Mrs. Pinchot's father was Lloyd Bruce, long editor of the North American Review and minister to Holland. Her great-grandfather was Peter Cooper.

Mrs. Pinchot herself is tall and slender, with the reddest of red hair. She is frankly fond of startling color effects. One day she may crown her vivid locks with a brilliant orange turban. The next it may be a green hat with magenta roses. That these striking effects pass unnoticed by reporters of her meetings, her friends declare, can be accounted for only by the absorbing interest they took in what she had to say.

Few women have mastered the art of forceful speaking like Mrs.

Pinchot. This accomplishment won for her, early in her public life, the description of a "Roosevelt in petticoats."

NEXT YEAR'S CAMPAIGN
Because of her demonstrated ability as a campaigner, Mrs. Pinchot may be expected to take a prominent share in next year's political struggle. Her influence may play no small part in shaping the decisions of women voters especially. In anticipation of this, on April 13, she is scheduled to address the Des Moines convention of the National League of Women Voters on "Democracy and the Women voter."

If her spring gown on that occasion detracts from her speech all previous records will be broken.

To Automobile Dealers

BOYS: I'm not certain whether I can gather together enough cash to buy one of your 1923 models which you will display at your show next week, but one thing is certain—I will at least have four bits and Mother and I will be there.

Indications are that you will have the biggest show in the history of this part of the state. Men in charge tell me there will be more cars on the floor of the tabernacle than were assembled in shows this year at Columbus, Dayton or Toledo. Mighty fine for Lima.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Bankers

MY FRIENDS: I am informed that you are beginning an intensive campaign to educate and protect prospective investors in my community. I thank you for this service. It coincides with what I have advocated for many years.

Hundreds and thousands of men and women would save themselves much financial loss if they would follow the plan of seeking advice from their bankers before they pour their money into this or that project. I realize that bankers, being human, are not infallible in all instances, but they are conscientious and with very few exceptions lean toward safety.

If my people had sought dependable advice you are equipped to give during the last ten years, they would have thousands upon thousands of dollars ahead today. You have my approval and promise of hearty cooperation in preventing loss thru wildcat schemes in the future.

LIMA BEANE.

To C. A. Bingham, City Manager

DEAR GENERAL: Thank you very much for enlightening me concerning the cause of the dilapidated condition of lighting arrangements on my otherwise fine appearing Ottawa river concrete bridges.

I trust you will lose no time in having the wiring given proper attention, so that the standards may again be lighted properly and visitors enabled to gain a more favorable impression of my city when they give the bridge spans the once over.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Merchants

GENTLEMEN: Is there no limit to the greatness of your Dollar Days? I have seen many of them, but the one this week made me forget all the former success you have achieved, for it was the greatest of them all.

My people and those from miles around were pleased. You kept faith and gave them bargains and you both profited. May succeeding events measure up to the last one.

LIMA BEANE.

To Nelson Shook

DEAR NELS: Allow me to congratulate you upon being chosen exalted ruler of my wonderful Elks lodge. It is a distinct honor to be named head of such an organization.

You have had a week of triumph in this election and the fine manner in which you helped take care of visiting laundrymen, making their meeting so far a big success.

LIMA BEANE.

To Mayor Cunningham

DEAR HAROLD: Assurances you have given that there is no controversy between the city and the officials of the Union Tank Line Car company, which might interfere with building plans of the company here, is pleasing to me.

Lima needs this new concern, as an impetus to the movement to place my city in the 100,000 class and there should be nothing permitted to halt plans formulated.

Your statement to the effect that material has been ordered for the Metcalf-st overhead and that car lines are to be extended to my manufacturing plants beyond the L. E. & W. Railroad tracks, south, is cheering news.

LIMA BEANE.

To Postmaster A. E. Gale

MY DEAR COLONEL: My sympathy is extended to you in your trials in endeavoring to keep the business of Uncle Sam's mail department in my city running smoothly in cramped quarters, with no immediate prospect of relief.

Failure of effort to get an appropriation for a new Lima postoffice will die with the present congress Sunday, very likely. That means another long wait, for a ray of hope, perhaps.

I notice, too, that you are compelled to deny delivery of mail to those of my people who fail, refuse or neglect to provide receptacles at their homes wherein the carriers may place letters.

LIMA BEANE.

To Kiwanians

FRIENDS: Your thoughtfulness in providing spring entertainment for my kiddies is commendable and I want to thank you.

April 21, the date chosen for the second annual kite tournament sponsored by your organization, is an admirable time for outdoor pastime. I congratulate you in determining to encourage the boys in the art of kite making and kite flying.

LIMA BEANE.

To Ohio Laundryowners

DEAR VISITORS: Pleasure is afforded me in adding to the fine words of welcome voiced by Mayor Harold Cunningham to you as guests of my city.

That you decided to hold your 27th annual convention here and that you have come in such large numbers, is pleasing to me, I assure you. I trust that by the time your deliberations come to a close on Saturday you will be so well impressed with Lima that you will want to return again—soon.

LIMA BEANE.

To President D. J. Cable, Lima Street Railway Co.

DEAR DAVE: Riding on your one-man cars is a great improvement over the old carriers. They bowl along better, taking the bumps in the tracks more gracefully, it seems.

Also, I like the plan for handling passengers. There is no delay, such as I anticipated and the motorman-conductor doesn't seem to be much bothered by the combination job.

Another feature that appeals to me is the existence of devices and rules that make for accident prevention.

LIMA BEANE.

To Householders

FRIENDS: My grocers tell me many of you are helping beat the sugar gamble by buying only immediate needs of this staple. I am glad you are following this plan. A rush into the market at the first "scare" merely plays into the hands of speculators who are piling up dollars by the carload. Don't help create an actual shortage thru purchases beyond your actual requirements.

LIMA BEANE.

Tourists spent $30,000,000 in Florida this winter. Now if we have another coal strike you will know what state is glad.

A rich man in Alabama who may think it hereditary has adopted the family of a late moonshiner.

From the number of players at Hot Springs taking baths we will have a clean baseball this year.

CLEAN SOURCES

One may have a nose, throat, stomach or intestine swarming with countless numbers of germs, both the harmless kind and the disease-producing kind, yet suffer no disease.

At least one of every five adults harbors in his nose or throat virulent pneumococci, the germs which cause pneumonia, bronchitis and many sore throats and simple coryzas. So that when we think of infection it is not enough to conceive disease germs in the throat or nose or other cavity of the body, for one may harbor disease germs in such situations without suffering illness.

Infection occurs only when the germs invade the tissues by fighting their way thru the lining of the nose or throat or other cavity. An individual in good health is endowed with more or less natural or acquired immunity to infectious disease; we commonly say he has "good resistance"; the cells composing his mucous membranes usually keep the pesky germs out, and the movable, wandering or soldier cells (phagocytes, white corpuscles) of his blood devour and digest any germs that do succeed in passing the mucous membrane barrier.

Not until these defenses are broken or weakened thru injury or bad hygiene can any disease germs gain entrance into the tissues. When that happens (not before) the victim comes down with the disease. He is said to be infected. One may be a "carrier" of the germs of typhoid fever or diphtheria or pneumonia or meningitis without himself being susceptible to the disease; the germs he carries may, however, be virulent enough to cause an outbreak or epidemic or an occasional case of the disease in persons with whom the carrier associates. This is a rather uncomfortable thought; it may readily become a haunting obsession in the mind of a person with just a little knowledge of such things. But modern sanitary experience proves that such "carriers" are responsible for outbreaks of disease only too often. I should not dwell on this at all were it not for the fact that I believe, as I shall try to explain shortly, that by the routine application of certain simple sanitary precautions and rules of cleanliness we may insure our safety against such sources of infection.

Infection, then, implies a battle on the frontier, the overwhelming of the defense and the invasion by the victorious germs. That is a disaster entirely different from the mere incident of swallowing or inhaling germs, which we all do every day.

A similar distinction must be made between sanitary or surgical cleanliness (doctors call it asepsis, not antisepsis) and ordinary cleanliness as sensed by sight or smell. Visible "dirt" may be perfectly clean in a surgical or sanitary sense; dust under the couch has no bearing on surgical or sanitary cleanliness. And things which the enlightened layman would deem unclean and unsafe surgically, such as a rusty nail, may be aseptic; rust is quite harmless. Persons who are perhaps exquisitely clean in the ordinary sense may be and sometimes are pernicious spreaders of disease, innocently or ignorantly. A mother has infected her own baby with diphtheria thru a kiss and the worst may not be told as to how many innocent persons have contracted syphilis thru a kiss. The infection of disease is about

Consumption
What per cent of consumption cases are hereditary?—L. A. M.
Answer:—Tuberculosis is not hereditary.

The Color of All Hair
Explain why the father and mother of six daughters have black hair while two of the daughters have red hair and four black hair.—H. P.
Answer:—All hair is red, save the unpigmented hair of the albino. The red or brown pigment, like that of the iris which gives the eye its color, makes the hair look "black" when very dense, brown hair look "black" when very dense, brown when less dense, red when present in still less quantity, gray (or blue in the case of the eye) when still less and white (in the case of hair) when absent. An iris without pigment (albino) appears pink from the color of the retina or interior of the eye showing thru. No hair is really black and no eyes are really black.

CABBAGE AND SAUSAGE
WOMAN'S DIET
"I have doctored with the best doctors in the United States. Some said one thing and some another was ailing me and all wanted to cut me open, but May's Wonderful Remedy saved me, so now I eat cabbage, sausage and anything I want to. Nothing hurts me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Hunter's 3 stores and druggists everywhere. adv

THE GAMBLER

If we could know
Tomorrow's pleasure and tomorrow's woe;

If we could see
What isn't yet but what is yet to be;

If we could learn
Just how the wheel of fate is bound to turn;

If it were clear
What will transpire next week, next month, next year;

We wouldn't find
As much fun as when we go it blind.

We'd lose the thrill
Of gambling whether luck be good or ill.

We would abide
Within a world where all was cut and dried;

And, sick and sore,
We'd find it most decidedly a bore.

But since we can't
See far ahead or even take a slant

At anything
Which future days or future years may bring.

We get a kick
By guessing whether fate's hand holds a brick

Or a bouquet—
It's better thus than any other way.

And then beside—
We couldn't change it any if we tried.

ABE MARTIN

So, I away, and into a street car, to save 93 cents on a chiropractic treatment. In the mail, greetings from Billy Hoover, globe-trotting, and having much joy in sunny climes. He and Dan Kirwan landed in Havana whilst I was taking tea, yet I knew it not. Here's Ben Gram, the motor truck king, who welcomes me back. The talk nowaday much went selling City Hall. Why not? Came Hank Simonton the phone expert, and Board of commerce worker, and tells me much about the flu-monia plague hereabouts, until afraid to journey forth.

Out to a money, to greet Frank Cunningham, now at his desk. And happy thereat. And Bourk Cochran is dead! So lively but a few days ago, chatting with House associates.

Out for air, dropping into Mac's smokery for a package of tags. Before the war I burned Murads, albeit took to Lucky Strikes for economy.

sat, until came Frank Sevier, the auto tire salesman. Who didst tip me that prices are soon to soar. Meaning much money to the drivers of Baby Lincolns and Luxury Coaches about this town.

Stepped in one of our swank private clubs, where college women were gathered for lunch. One silk-en-gowned dame, whose modiste is wintering in the Bermudas, yelled at her chauffeur: "Oh, James, what did you do with the glitz?"

The dresses do look so short as to cause me anxiety. Must ask Roy Gregg, the super-costumier about his new styles. Roy is always two steps in advance of the fashions. To lunch at the White and Harry Gorman chatted long on the heavy railway traffic. Saw Howard Dean, and dodged, but the American book-keeper caught me by 'phone.

In the evening, to the Sigma and given a box by Manager Ritzler himself. Saw Coue, cure the stammering fat boy, and "Dangerous Age," gave me little comfort but much enjoyment. So, home to a sandwich and bot of Kommtusk animal fluid.

MOVIE FANS TO DECIDE BATTLE

Fight in Filmworld Between Hays And Fairbanks To Go Limit

STARS, MAGNATES LINE UP

Theatre Owners Will Pass Buck Upon Patrons Of Lima

(BY JACK JUNGMEYER)

LOS ANGELES—(Special)—Motion picture theatres in Lima and in other communities throughout the United States will be the real battlefield on which the "movie war," waged between Douglas Fairbanks and Will Hays, will be fought to a finish.

It is from Hollywood that battle communiques of the two principals will be issued, but it is in the theaters of the nation—from the elaborate "picture palaces" of the great cities to the "once-a-week movie" of the hamlet—that the actual fighting will take place.

There is no doubt that the battle drums are rolling in movieodom and that war to the death impends between star and magnate involving the very foundations of the gigantic industry.

The conflict now shaping is between the more powerful independent producing stars and the big producing corporations.

WHAT STARS SEEK

The stars champion more artistic freedom and bigger profits for actors, at the same time accusing the producers of creating conditions that will dwarf artistry.

This threatens to array all forces of the film and theatre in opposing positions with ideals and shekels hanging in the balance.

Douglas Fairbanks, doughty David of the independent actor-producers, fired the first shot when he marshaled Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, D. W. Griffith, Norma and Constance Talmadge and Harold Lloyd into a confederation pledged to "protect the independent producer and exhibitor from certain combinations" held by them inimical to the best interests of the industry.

HAYS' HIS OPPOSITE

The titular head of the faction opposing Fairbanks and his allies is, of course, Will Hays, because Fairbanks' rapier was aimed at certain corporations within the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, the organization generated by Hays.

This organization includes Universal, Famous Players, Lasky, Goldwyn, Fox, Metro, Vitaphone, Warner Brothers, Associated First National and others. These companies employ the great majority of motion picture stars.

Many of them foster what is known as the program system of production with fixed time limit, fixed expenditures and other rigid restrictions characterized by opponents as a "cannery system rather than art."

Producers of this nature turn out a definite number of releases a year. Many of them are financed by the who think movies should be operated in factories. Thus they have made huge fortunes.

STARK REBUTALS

It is against the type of producer thus pictured by the independents that the latter are in rebellion, seeking to rally other stars under their banner.

The war, having been started here, now will be carried into the theatres. Many of these now are controlled by the various big producing organizations to such an extent that independents less powerful than Fairbanks and his associates have difficulty in getting their pictures exhibited.

Independent theatre owners as yet are neutral. They dislike both the program system of the corporations which forces them to take releases they don't want and the independents who force high bidding by auctioning their pictures.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as

Blood-cells increase in number, blood improves rapidly! We also know that more red-blood-cells mean more vitality, more energy, more health, more beauty, more youth. That is the advantage of this wonderful fact! Those who have just like you have been troubled by it! Skin eruptions, eczema, with its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soiling, itching, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting army of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the millions! It has been doing it since 1902! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and in all time, I thank you very much, I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. It cures S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

IS FATE OF FREE OLIVIA WORSE THAN THAT OF GUILTY LILLIAN?

TWO WOMEN, thwarted in love, smarting under injustice, each decided to do away with the tedious processes of the law and mete out swift death to the man who had wronged her.

Olivia Stone, Cincinnati nurse, shot and killed Ellis G. Kinhead because she loved him.

Mrs. Lillian Raizen killed Dr. Abraham Glickstein because she hated him.

Ellis G. Kinhead was a lawyer in Brooklyn. Dr. Abraham Glickstein was a Brooklyn physician. Brooklyn jurors, regarding the two women, acted upon their cases differently. Olivia Stone, they decided, might return to Cincinnati a free woman. Mrs. Raizen, they decided, must go to the Auburn prison, there to reflect and soften or else—break, under prison regime.

But is the fate of free Olivia Stone, battling public opinion in Cincinnati any easier than will be the fate of Lillian Raizen when prison doors close behind her?

(By Josephine Van de Grift)

BROOKLYN — "Be brave, dearest, be brave," whispered Charles Raizen over and over when the judge had pronounced sentence and Lillian Raizen had been carried fainting from the courtroom.

And—"Be brave, dearest," will somehow trickles thru prison walls to the leaden heart of Lillian Raizen. It will mean that the man who had been her childhood sweetheart, who had forgiven her freely when she had made a shameful confession, who had tried to make her wifehood happy, who had stood by her staunchly thru the trial, was still waiting, thinking, hoping.

They are both 30 years old. Years from now when the prison gates swing open will a gray-haired matron gather close the bent form of Lillian Raizen and whisper "Be brave, dearest, be brave?" If past faithfulness counts for anything, one might well expect as much from Charles Raizen.

Free Olivia Stone was hard put to it to get a bare existence. Lillian Raizen at least need not go hungry. She will eat at 7 o'clock and again at 11:30 and again at 6—prison fare, but substantial, and it will come regularly.

Free Olivia Stone was denied the right to work. Lillian Raizen will work every day. She will sew and wash and cook and for her work she will receive the modest recompense of seven and one half cents a day.

Free Olivia Stone did not know where she might lay her head. Lillian Raizen will have a little narrow white-washed room with a cot in it.

There will be a single window looking on the out-of-doors. Lillian Raizen will not be able to escape thru that window but—nothing can come thru it to hurt her.

It was a little French song which in years gone by had drawn two people together and unwittingly led on to tragedy. If Lillian Raizen still cares to sing she may do so. The prison is equipped with a piano. Perhaps some day Lillian Raizen will forget her own sorrow long enough to sing to some other prison-sick soul, yearning for a little music.

Lillian Raizen is cultured, she has a sense of the dramatic, her voice is well modulated. Books and pictures to a reasonable degree she may have in her little prison room.

The necessity of the struggle for daily existence being removed Lillian Raizen could, during her leisure prison hours, develop herself in literature, in art, in music. She could devise ways of making the lot of other prisoners more bearable. Life need not close for her because two prison gates swing together.

The loneliness of being among other human beings who would have nothing to do with her was what was driving Olivia Stone to talk of suicide. In Auburn prison there will be no one to say to Lillian Raizen, "I am better than thou."

She will have companions first and then friends. There will be sympathy and understanding if Lillian Raizen chooses to take it.

Among the little community of women gathered together there in prison her life can, if she chooses to make it, stand out as brilliantly as the life of any heroine in literature.

And always she may have the memory of a strong man's pleading. "Be brave, dearest, be brave."

(BY ALFRED SEGAL)

CINCINNATI — (Special) — It was three days before Christmas. Good will was in the holly that adorned the windows of stores. Good will was in the wreaths that hung in the windows of homes. Good will was in the Christmas cards that the letters carriers were leaving in the mail boxes.

"I have returned to Cincinnati, my home town, to see if I can make worth living the life that the jury gave me when it acquitted me of first degree murder," announced Olivia Stone to the public.

"If I sinned, I have suffered. If I did wrong that is of the past, and I am one to be judged forever by the past? I have come to be taken into the good will of this community, so that I may be permitted again to practise nursing which is the only thing I know to do. This is the season of good will. It is a good time to practise it."

There was good will in the holly, and in the wreaths and in the Christmas cards, but none for Olivia Stone. And the guarded doors of the nursing profession remained closed to her.

Christmas went, and Olivia Stone announced: "I am going out to find good will after Christmas. Maybe there is some left over?"

She went about the city, knocking at the doors of those who were once her friends, who could now help her win honorable standing in her profession.

"I want only a chance to make a living," she said. "What use is there to live without the decent regard of other human beings? The jury gave me my life. I want to make it useful."

"But Social Opinion answered: 'Goodness gracious, you killed a man. And before that you had lived with him wrongfully. How can we take you in?'"

And three weeks passed and Olivia Stone, having sought in vain an entrance into her profession, was reduced to her last dollar. She called on a reporter.

"I am at the end," she said. "Better death than this. What's the use of living any longer like this?"

"What do you mean?" asked the reporter.

"There is nothing left but to die," she answered.

She had fought to win her life from the jury. She had spent $3000—all she had—for her life. Now she was ready to relinquish it rather than to suffer longer the penalty that Social Opinion inflicts even when the law is merciful.

"Don't be a fool," said the reporter. "How do you know it isn't going to be worse to be dead? Wait a minute."

The reporter went to a telephone and called up Arthur Nash, who runs a clothing factory by the Golden Rule.

"Send her to my office," said Nash. And when she called on him he said: "I want to give you a chance. But the old Olivia Stone must be buried. From this moment you become the new Olivia Stone. I will deal only with the new Olivia Stone."

Olivia Stone now is a visiting nurse at the golden rule clothing factory.

But Social Opinion still is Social Opinion.

Bodily Housekeeping

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times, pain in the back or back of the neck, take An-uric before meals. This can be found at any good drug store. Therefore my advice to young or old is, always drink plenty of pure water. And for long life, occasionally take ablets of "An-uric" three or four times a day.

It is simply wonderful how quickly An-uric acts—much more potent than lithia. The poisons are dissolved (and eliminated) almost as sugar in water.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

After Grip, "flu" or colds, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of the kidneys.

This is the red flag of danger—better be wise and check the further inroads of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as An-uric (anti-uric-acid), because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists.

Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package of An-uric, or ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's An-uric (kidney and backache remedy).

Many folks in town could testify to the merits of An-uric as does this woman:

Pottsdam, Ohio—"I suffered for years with backache. Finally I tried Dr. Pierce's An-uric and it was wonderful the way it eased the pain and gave me relief in such a short time. I have tried several medicines but An-uric is the only one that gave satisfaction. I feel it my duty to recommend it."—Mrs. Margaret E. Snider, Box 115.

The popularity of the benefit bridges, that have been given by different organizations of the city, during the past few years, is an assurance that the Lima women are ready at all times, to give to the needy and helpless. For those who enjoy bridge, or euchre, it is a most congenial way to while away the afternoon hours, and it is an excellent opportunity for a hostess to entertain a dozen or more guests, at the same time doing her bit towards charity.

For the benefit of the City Hospital, the Ways and Means Committee of the Woman's Board of that institution have arranged for a party Saturday afternoon at the Moose Temple. The Delta Sigma sorority members will be hostesses at a benefit bridge, April 7th, at the Hotel Argonne. The Mercy Circle have set no definite date as yet, for their next affair, but it is probable they will entertain before the summer months.

A hundred tables have been engaged for the party Saturday afternoon. There will be tables in the ball room for bridge and euchre, and a special program has been planned for the enjoyment of those who care to sew. Play will start at 2.15 o'clock.

Mrs. Chas. Killen, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, is in charge of the affair.

Mrs. Frank Bell, second regent of the chapter of Daughters of American Revolution in this city, is chairman of the committee in charge of their March meeting at the Episcopal church parish house, Saturday afternoon. A program of music and readings will follow a short business session.

Annually, the past Regents arrange a meeting and those who will assist Mrs. Bell, Saturday will be: Mrs. D. J. Cable, Mrs. William L. Mackenzie, Mrs. Grace Hollister, Mrs. Frederick Borges, Mrs. T. A. McLaughlin and Miss Ella Mackenzie.

The business meeting will open at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. H. E. Griffith, Chester Place, entertained the members of the Junior club, Wednesday evening. Buncos was the diversion, Mrs. Orville Ebling and Mrs. E. A. Schaefer holding high score. A two-course luncheon was served later in the evening.

Mrs. Clarence Horrine, Marion-av. will entertain the club in two weeks.

Mrs. A. J. Manhard, M. Pierce-st. entertained the members of the Ideal club, Thursday afternoon. Jolly music was enjoyed by the members and a clever contest held in which Mrs. Herbert Martin was successful. The hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Swift, an only guest.

Mrs. J. C. Hartline, Faurot-av. will entertain the club in two weeks.

Mrs. and Mr. Frank Maize, TV Market-st. left Friday for Toledo, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Maize's aunt, who is a sister of Mrs. J. E. Grosjean. Mrs. Grosjean was called there several days ago.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:—
Please give me your advice, after you read the following. Don't you think that when a couple get married the husband should treat his wife and go to housekeeping and not want to go and live with somebody else all the time?
Where should a dog sleep? Do you think it is right for a dog to sleep with us at night? Do you think that a man should think more of a dog than he does of his own wife?
How much of her husband's money do you think his wife should spend? Do you think 25 cents is too much to spend at one time?
My husband does not like to have me read your advice, but I do just the same.

HELEN.

WHETHER a couple go to housekeeping immediately after their marriage, depends on the financial condition of the husband. It is my opinion that if you can afford it, the thing to do would be to rent a small house, until you are able to buy one of your own. If conditions are such that you cannot afford to pay rent on five or six rooms, then get along with one or two rooms. I should think nothing but financial matters would enter into a case of this kind.

Why not have a place on the porch for the dog to sleep? Or, in the winter, a box near the stove in the kitchen. No, a dog should not even sleep in the same room with you. How foolish to think your husband cares more for the dog than for you!

It is difficult for me to say how much of your husband's money you should spend. Why not make a budget, you and your husband. Set aside a certain amount for every expense you have, and spending money for both of you. No, I do not think 25 cents is too much to spend at one time.

Dear Miss Smart:—
What does the word love mean? We have a girl in our room at school who tells things that are not true about us girls. Would you have anything to do with her? She is not a very nice girl.

Do you think a girl of 13 is too young to have a beau?
At what age would it be all right for a girl to marry?
How is my writing?
BETTY AND LUCY.

Love means a strong affection—a great liking for some one or something. I would have nothing at all to do with her. Ignore her.

Twenty-three is a good marrying age. Very good.

I want to thank the two persons who offered their home for the first meeting of the Lonely Club. I have sent your names to the young widow I speak of and she is going to call on you soon, naturally, the most casual of your homes, she shall visit for the meeting.

I am very anxious to plan the first meeting and after we make arrangements for the place of assembly, programs and other details, then I feel sure the membership will increase. So far, we have 40 members. Are there no more who wish to be charter members?

To the person who wrote me and asked her name "Tina" still wishes to join the club, will she please send me her correct name and address.

ly will have charge of the story hour. A feature of the afternoon will be a skit for Miss Harriet Howey's kindergarten pupils in Japan.

Mrs. John Isoso, W. Market-st. entertained the members of the Friday Bridge club, at the Elks Home, Friday. Following the uncheon at 1 o'clock, four tables were filled for bridge.

Guests other than the club members were Mesdames Chalmers Brown, W. L. Reid, Chas. Herbst, E. L. Andrew and Frank Moke.

EGGS, FLORENTINE

By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH Of Columbia University

Wash two quarts of spinach and cook about 30 minutes, or until soft, adding a fourth of a cup of water and as much baking powder as can be taken on the point of a knife. When cooked, drain thoroughly, press out all the water, which should be saved to make a cream soup for another meal. Then chop the spinach, adding butter, salt and pepper to taste.

Make a cream sauce by melting three tablespoons of butter and adding three tablespoons of flour, half a tablespoon of salt, a little pepper and a cup and a half of milk or a cup of milk and half a cup of cream, stirring constantly until it boils.

Place the spinach on a platter or in a baking dish which can be sent to the table, drop six eggs on it, seasoning each with salt and pepper, pour the cream sauce over all and on the top sprinkle evenly a cup of grated cheese.

Set in a hot oven and bake until the eggs are firm and the cheese is melted and slightly browned. Serve at once.

SPANISH OMELET

(By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH)

Take two tablespoons each of good oil and chopped onion, a clove of bean or garlic, chopped, two cups of canned or four fresh tomatoes, peeled and cut into small pieces, one teaspoon each of salt and paprika, a quarter point of fresh mushrooms, eight olives stoned and cut into strips, five eggs, five table-spoons water or milk and salt and pepper.

Cook the onion and garlic in the oil for five minutes, being careful not to brown. Add tomatoes, sugar, salt and paprika, and cook slowly for half an hour, or until quite thick. Wash, peel, and cut into pieces the mushrooms and cook in a little butter for five minutes. Add to the tomatoes and at the same time add the olives.

When the tomato mixture is ready make the omelet.

Beat the eggs very slightly with a fork add water or milk, salt and pepper. Heat the frying oil or omelet pan, add oil, and pour into this the eggs. Move the pan frequently as the eggs set, and, with a knife, raise it from the bottom of the pan, allowing the uncooked part of the egg to touch the pan. In this way the egg does not become hard, but remains creamy. When only a very little egg remains in a liquid state loosen around the edges and fold over two or three times. Turn into a hot platter and pour the tomato and mushroom mixture over the top of the omelet with a few sprigs of parsley or watercress.

TALKS TO MOTHERS OF FLAPPERS

BY CONGRESSWOMAN HUCK

No. 3---Secret of Safeguarding Daughters

By MRS. WINNIFRED M. HUCK Congresswoman-at-Large From Illinois

Modernism, as expressed by the cheek-to-cheek dance, smoking by girls and other extravaganzas, is to my mind foolish, but not necessarily dangerous.

Personally I am not in favor of women "wooing nicotine," as the phrase goes. This from a health standpoint alone, however.

It cannot be argued that woman, merely because she is a woman, should not smoke. To admit that would be to grant that man, merely because he is man, ought not to do things women do.

This age is setting aside a lot of foolish Victorian ideas premised on accepted inequality between the sexes.

Principally 1923 stands for emancipation—the it is to be regretted that some few have misconstrued liberty for license, and thus prejudice the thinking world against those who seek to use their new freedom to realize what it is all about.

The flapper is not to be misjudged by that type of parasite who exploits new manners for evil ends. The flapper may be a bit intoxicated with the joyful ecstasy of her liberty.

Like a captive just released from long bondage she perhaps rushes about, too glad in her moment of freedom to realize what it is all about or to care to comprehend the reason for it all.

Give her time and she is going to settle down, none the worse for her gambol on the green, but much wiser and stronger for the experience.

Rough on the cheek or powder on the nose is by no means a sign of instability of the wearer.

Given a good mother, a good home and right environment all around, the girl or boy entering into the new-fangled world today will very early learn to discriminate between what will harm and what not.

Extremes to every fad, to every epoch, to every reconstruction, are not good. They are bad. But they are a negligible minority among our young folks today.

Let our boys and girls play, I say. Give them your love and especially your confidence, hold their love and confidence, and nothing can befall them.

Talk with your children; treat them as pals, not as mere subjects to obey you.

That is the whole secret to the thing.

You know what was said about a soft answer. It turns away wrath—and coupled with love makes mutual confidants of fathers and mothers, sons and daughters.

See to it that your boy or girl is leading a healthful normal life with plenty of wholesome athletic and social recreation.

LADY CANNOT SAY ENOUGH FOR IT

Feels Better Than For Fifteen Years Since Taking The Plant Juice

PAIN AND SORENESS GONE

"I am feeling better than at any time in the last 15 years since I have taken your Plant Juice and I can't say enough for your wonderful medicine," declared Mrs. C. V. Gosard, of R. F. D. No. 1, Lima, while talking with The Plant Juice.

MRS. C. V. GOSARD

Man recently at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, where large crowds of local people are now calling daily to have this surprising herbal medicine explained to them.

"My right side was so sore that I could hardly touch it," Mrs. Gosard continued. "My head would pain me nearly all the time. I had awful, sour, bloating attacks with my stomach after meals and could hardly eat anything because of them. My back hurt me terribly; I felt tired and weak and often just had to let my work go. I was so restless at night that I could not sleep."

"I am glad to say that since I have taken your Plant Juice I feel better and am better than at any time in the last 15 years. I am gaining in weight; eat and sleep fine; pains in my head are gone and the soreness has left my side so that I do not notice it anymore. I have been relieved of the bloating and sour spells with my stomach and am able to work now without feeling all tired out afterward."

"The truth is that I cannot say enough for your Plant Juice after the wonderful benefits it brought me and I gladly recommend it to other people who suffer as I did." xThe Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. ## Codfish Balls

(By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH)

Put two cups of raw potatoes, cut into large pieces and a cup of salt codfish, separated into small bits, in a kettle, cover them with boiling water and cook until the potatoes are soft.

Drain the water off thoroughly, mash the potatoes and fish, and add two tablespoons of butter, an eighth teaspoon of pepper and an egg, slightly beaten.

Beat thoroughly and, if at all moist, place in a warm place and allow it to stand until evaporated. Drop by spoonful into deep fat, hot enough to brown a piece of bread in 40 counts.

Drain on paper and serve very hot.

REMOVING TAR STAINS

If you ever get tar stain on your hands or clothing remember you can easily remove it with clean lard, then wash thoroughly with soap and warm water.

GRIND IT FIRST

The oatmeal you use for cookies or muffins will be much more satisfactory if you grind it through the food chopper before using it. Measure it, however, before you grind.

IN COOKING RICE

If you will grease the edge of the pot you cook your rice in the rice will not boil over.

ADD SALT LAST

Salt curdles milk, so when making gravy or any dish in which these two ingredients occur remember not to add the salt until the dish is prepared.

CLEANING COAT COLLARS

It is almost impossible to keep a coat collar from becoming lousy where it comes in contact with the neck, but the objectionable stain may be removed by sponging it with alcohol in which salt has been dissolved.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and whether the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
SIR NORMAN GREYES, formerly of Scotland Yard, is devoting his time to tracking down an arch criminal known to him as MICHAEL SAYER.

JANET SOALE, maid in Sayer's cottage, shoots down a police officer who tracks Michael to his abode.

Sayer is known to Mr. Stanfield, but Sir Norman becomes suspicious as to his real identity. After a three-months' vacation, Greyes meets Stanfield in a hotel lobby. Sir Norman has an interview with a South American widow, staying at the same hotel, regarding a policy of a hundred thousand pounds carried on her wonderful rope of pearls. When being interviewed, the widow sends the pearls to the hotel safe by her maid, who is robbed and beaten unconscious.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"It is hard to keep anything out of the press, nowadays," I reminded him, "but so far as I am concerned you may rely upon my discretion."

The few days that followed were filled with hysterical and irritating appeals, complaints and inquiries from Mrs. De Mendoza herself, the insurance company and the management. No effort to our part could keep the affair out of the newspapers, and the disappearance of the necklace became the universal subject of conversation.

On the sixth day after the robbery I felt that a brief escape was necessary. I proposed to Mr. Stanfield, whom I met in the hall of the hotel, that we go down to Woking and have a round of golf, an arrangement to which he agreed with avidity. We lunched at the clubhouse, and as on previous occasions, we played a careful and hard-fought game. It was on the eighteenth tee when one of those unexplained moments of inspiration came to me which serve as the landmarks of life. We had spoken of that grim tragedy which had interrupted our first game. I thought of poor Ladbroke lying there with a bullet-hole in his forehead, the maid, Janet, serene and secretive, with the strange eyes and the unruffled manner. The memory of these things came back to me as I stood there and it seemed as though my faculties were suddenly prompted by a new vigor and a new insight.

Supposing it had been the maid who had killed the prying stranger? What was her motive? Whom was she trying to shield? Could it be her master? And if her master's name was not Stanfield, might it not be Pugsley? The two men were of the same height and build, and the one thing which Rimmington had always insisted upon was Pugsley's genius for disguise. The pieces of my puzzle fell together like magic, and with them the puzzle of the necklace. I turned back to the tea, and I was suddenly conscious of my companion's intense gaze.

"Your honor," he said tersely. "I topped my drive miserably. My companion's drive went sailing down the course, and he halved the match in a perfectly played four. We walked together to the clubhouse."

"A whisky and soda?" I suggested. "I'll change my shoes first," he answered, turning toward the dressing room.

I drank my whisky and soda, exchanged greetings with a few acquaintances and paid my bill. Then I went to look for Stanfield. I might have spared myself the trouble. He and the taxi had alike disappeared. I had to wait while they telephoned for another, and I traveled up to London alone.

The game was played out in quite the grand fashion. On my arrival at the hotel, I found the representative of the insurance company waiting to see me, and I was told that Mrs. De Mendoza was in her room. Accompanied by the manager, we made our way thither. I think that she was well prepared for what was coming, or rather one part of it. She received us a little impatiently.

"I have been waiting to hear from your firm all day," she said, addressing me.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS—FRECKLES ENTERS A COMEDY—

of circumstantial evidence which might be collected.
"Against whom?"
"Against the gentleman whom we have known as Mr. Stanfield."
She laughed scornfully.
"That funny little man who sits about in the lounge? I would as soon believe that you yourself were the thief, Sir Norman! I have my necklace back, and that is all I care about," she concluded.

The manager departed, very much relieved. Mrs. De Mendoza beckoned me to follow her to her suite. Arrived in her sitting-room, she closed the door. She had rather the look of a tigress as she turned and faced me. Never was a woman born, of more splendid courage.

"And the epilogue?" she asked.
"I fear," I replied, "that the epilogue must be postponed. It was only today, on Woking Golf Links, that a certain little scene of eighteen months ago became reconstructed in my mind. I saw a motiveless crime explained. I realized by whose hand that bullet might have found its way into Ladbroke's brain, and for whose sake."

"Yet you let him go!" she cried.
"I must admit that he has scored a trick," I said slowly, "but you must remember, or perhaps you have yet to find out, that the world where such a man can live, is a very small place."

"And what about me?" she asked.
"From the moment when I heard that you had gone out with him alone, I could foresee what was coming. Yet I was not afraid. I waited for you."

I looked at the necklace and shrugged.
"It is hard to leave a hundred thousand pounds," I pointed out, "and so far as you realized, the game was not up. Not a soul in this hotel except myself knew that the necklace had been recovered. Yet you had courage to remain and see the thing thru. I admit that."

She gave a little nearer to me. The green lights in her eyes were soft. I felt the attraction of her as she meant me to.

"Where I love," she said, "I have courage, and my love has every quality which the devil ever distilled, except constancy. Are you afraid of me, Sir Norman, because I

"I turned up the rug. In one of the planks of the wooden floor was a knot. I took a little cork-screw gimlet from my pocket, bored into it and drew it out. Then I made Ladbroke push his finger thru. There was a hook fastened in the under side of the floor."

"The necklace was hanging there," I told him. "I imagine it would have been found later by some one making a point of occupying this room. As a matter of fact, I believe, it was hooked for the first week in June."

"By whom?" Mrs. De Mendoza demanded.
"By Mr. Stanfield," I replied. "He is paying a return visit in June, and he appears to prefer this room to the one he is occupying at present."

There was a brief silence. Delchester held out his hand.
"We are very much obliged to you, Sir Norman," he declared. "Our insurance, as you know, expired at midday today. I need not say that it will be not renewed. I wish you all good afternoon."

He took his leave. The manager appealed to me.
"Sir Norman," he said, "there is a great deal in this matter which it is hard to understand. I hope that you will not consider it a case for the police?"

I turned to Mrs. De Mendoza.
"Do you wish to prosecute?" I asked. "There is a certain amount

You Need It—
"The Iron Food for Vitality"

The Iron Food for Vitality

Raisin Pie
Men are quickly refreshed at night by a dessert like this

Stewed Raisins
Serve for breakfast every morning and get your daily iron this way

Cover Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins with cold water and add a slice of lemon or orange. Place in fire, bring to a boil and allow to simmer for one hour. Sugar may be added but is not necessary, as Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins contain 16 per cent natural fruit sugar.

That Dainty Loaf

supplies food-iron—a builder of healthful vitality in women—their greatest charm

Here's a dainty luncheon so delicious that you'll be apt to overlook the healthful benefits it brings—if thinking only of its luscious flavor.

Those benefits are due to the rich food-iron content of the raisins.

Food-iron fortifies the blood—brings rosy cheeks, bright eyes. But more than that, a proper daily iron supply, if long continued, builds strong, healthy, vigorous vitality.

That vitality, that magnetic force, is "personality" and is yours, and every woman's greatest charm.

You need but a small bit of iron daily, yet that need is vital. Get it through right foods—this luscious raisin bread is one way.

Have it toasted every morning, with your coffee; and thus get the benefits of regularity. Try today—this captivating, vitalizing food. It will be your favorite breakfast toast.

Delicious raisin bread is sold by bake shops and groceries everywhere. Buy of them to save baking at home.

Real raisin bread is made with lots of raisins. Insist on it. First-class bakers do not stint.

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Use Sun-Maid Raisins, made from California's finest table grapes—American raisins, processed and packed immaculately in a great modern California plant. Seeded (seeds removed); Seedless (grown without seeds); Clusters (on the stem). Also a fine, ever-ready dessert.

Raisins are cheaper by 30 per cent than formerly—see that you get plenty in your foods.

M'Kown Fractures World's Pole Vault Mark In First Attempt

EMPORIA, Kan.,—Earle McKown, who recently set a new world's record for the indoor pole vault, is a bright and shining example of the advisability of sticking to one particular sport if you like it.

He achieved national fame when he cleared the bar at 12 feet 10 inches at the Kansas City Athletic Club's recent invitational meet. But he's been making the native Jayhawkers sit up and notice for several years.

As a primary school pupil in Pratt, Kan., McKown marveled when a grade school pupil vaulted 8 feet 6 inches. He was fired with an ambition to beat his mark, and since then he has worked steadily, first with a broom stick and later with a vaulting pole.

Through grammar school and high school he shattered scholastic records. Last year he created a sensation when he appeared in meets for the Kansas State Normal School—but as he was a freshman his marks didn't count.

His record-breaking vault was his first appearance in varsity competition. His coaches predict he'll set a new outside vault record within two years.

EARLE MCKOWN

JAPAN HAS IN HOME RUN HERO—“BABE TANAKA”

Don't get the idea that an American crowd is the only collection of fans that likes to see the old “kicker” clouded off a baseball. The Nipponese are all trying to emulate Babe Ruth, American players “baseballing in Japan” found, according to this story, told to Billy Evans.

By Waite Hoyt

Pitcher for the New York Americans and World Series Hero

The home-run habit is not entirely peculiar to the United States. The deeds of Babe Ruth have been wafted across the continent and ocean to Japan. With the Jap players and fans the home run is the big idea at present.

While the ball used in Japan is not as lively as the one used in the States, you can take it from me it is a mighty good ball. A peculiar feature of the Japanese baseball is that it is entirely hand made.

A number of us players made the trip to the factory where much of the sporting goods of Japan is manufactured. We marveled most at the making of the ball. Instead of having a special machine to wind the yarn around the rubber center, the operation is performed entirely by hand. It is really remarkable how tightly and evenly the yarn is wound and how perfect the ball is when completed.

The “Babe Ruth” of Japan is a chap by the name of Tanaka. It is fitting and proper that he should be called by the nickname Babe.

The Japs as a race are short of stature. It could not be expected that he in any way compares with Ruth in physique. However, when he got hold of a fast ball he certainly could give it a long ride.

Babe Tanaka is built along the lines of the once famous Ping Bodie. In fact, at the plate Tanaka reminds you very much of the illustrious Ping. He is a right-handed hitter and takes a cut at a fast one that would bring shames to Harry Heilmann or Rogers Hornsby.

It was probably unkind of us pitchers, but as would be expected, we worked harder on Tanaka than any of the other Jap players. By watching him closely in batting practice it was apparent to us that he was a fast ball hitter. His stance at the plate also made it evident that a low curve would bother him most.

During all the games Tanaka played against us he saw only one thing.

It was a clean, fast exhibition, yet it failed to please. It was too clever for most of the spectators. Both boys had too good a defense.

In other words, neither packed a knockout punch. In the fight game, the count of 10 carries the same thrill as a wallop over the fence in baseball with the bases filled.

At the stage of the fight some of the dispirited fans whistled the Merry Widow waltz, while the boys, with their brilliant footwork, glided about the ring.

All of which brings us back to the opening statement that the fellow who packs the punch is always on the verge of doing big things.

The ring has known few brawnier fighters than Johnny Kilbane. Kilbane, to use a sporting term, has everything—even the punch when he sets to use it.

However, through his ring career, Johnny has been content to win in the easiest manner possible. The fact that he has held the championship over 10 years, while most champions fade out in two or three years, makes it seem that Kilbane has the right system.

LOCALS EAGER

Lima scholastic quartets were up bright and early Friday morning.

Both South and Central were at Bluffton at 9 a. m. when drawings for opponents were held.

Dope from the five counties in the Bluffton district seems almost conclusive that Lima will be represented in the state tournament by two teams. Ada, the only quintet, likely to cause trouble is thought to be out of the running and interest in the tournament is centering around the more-than-possible South-Central game, which is expected to be the last game of the quintet.

Class B is expected to hold the boards most of Friday. In this division, which is open to schools having less than 150 boys, there are 15 teams entered and plans are to play at least the first series of elimination games among these teams, before starting play in Class A.

Lima's teams are in the best possible condition. South has been observing rigid training for the past week and Coach Burdette has the aggregation at the top of their form for the tourney. A mass meeting at South was called off because of an order which prevented the cage aggregation from attending.

Central, however, sent their representatives to the meet with a rousing rally. Effigies of the six other teams in Class A were burned and songs and cheering aroused the enthusiasm of the team to the highest pitch.

BABE RUTH IS THINNER

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Down in the pine-fringed hills of the Ozarks, where the skinning battle to get fat and the heavy fight to get thin, Babe Ruth, the big king sweater of baseball, is making good in the battle of the big.

“Pound off every day, that's me,” the Babe said today in putting emphasis on the fact that he is down to 205 pounds and that he expects to weigh around 200 when he goes to New Orleans to start reducing that team that blundered his batting eye last season.

The Babe is one, and the most important one, of a collection of baseball players gathered here today to take the baths, climb mountains, play golf and do a little work with the baseball in preparation for the coming season.

There are old veterans here just this side of the scrap heap, and there are youngsters who have had bad colds during the winter; there are players and this players, golf players and crap shooters. They all have different ideas of their own needs and they all follow different forms of training.

GENARO TAKES MIDGET TITLE

NEW YORK—Frankie Genaro, who won the world's amateur championship of the class in the last Olympics, today is the new American flyweight champion.

The deposed monarch is Pancho Villa, the mightiest mite of a fighting man that ever came out of the Philippines.

There are a good many of the 15,000 who saw the crown change hands last night in Madison Square Garden who think the clever Filipino was treated harshly and at least should have received a draw.

Until it was two-thirds over the fight was slow for a championship contest. Both men were extremely cautious.

Villa appeared more aggressive, but he was a shade more tired at the last going. They punched seemed of about equal force, their defenses were largely similar.

The two midgets furnished one of the most spectacular bouts the historic arena has ever housed.

Dempsey Looks Good To Fans

LOS ANGELES—Jack Dempsey, world heavyweight boxing champion who has started training for a prospective title bout in the east, boxed two rounds each with three different men yesterday and roughed it ten minutes on the mat with Johnny Meyers, of Chicago, claimant of the world's middleweight wrestling championship.

Sports writers who witnessed the champion's workouts said he was “very fast,” weighed only 185 pounds and could easily get into ring condition in a short time.

HURLERS READY

CLEVELAND—Several of the pitchers of the Cleveland baseball club are ready to work a full game now, according to advices reaching here from the spring training camp at Lakeland, Fla. Altho they only practiced two hours at Lakeland yesterday they had been working out at their homes in the south. Among them is Guy Morton, the veteran, who declares he expects to have the best season of his career.

Razing Helps This Hockey Player

FRANK GOHSEN

Riding by the fads made a famous hockey player out of “Moose” Johnson, long a leader in Canadian leagues. The same sort of derision has made a star out of another “Moose.”

Frank Gohsen, who is a big factor in St. Paul's success in keeping up the running in the United States Hockey league's western group, is the player. He is at his best when the fans are against him. He plays such a hard game and causes so many spills that there is ample chance for fadism's fire.

“Moose” Gohsen was the most hated player appearing in Elveholt, Minn., this year. The fans waxed almost vituperative in their “razing” and Gohsen is credited with single-handed victories over the home team two successive days.

Now they like him at Elveholt.

LIMA BOY IS HONORED

Raymond Kahle, 204 S. Cole-st., has been pledged to Gamma Phi, honorary gymnastic fraternity, at Ohio Wesleyan University and will be initiated within a short time.

Kahle has worked hard on the gym floor all year and although inexperienced at the outset, has developed into a very promising performer.

He is entered for two of the events in the Big Ten conference gym meet to be held at Ohio State March 9 and 10 and there will have a chance to stack up against gymnasts who have won their spurs in that line.

CARP ISSUES DEFINITIVE

PARIS—The French boxing federation says L'Auro has received Georges Carpentier's challenge to Battling Siki for the light heavyweight championship of Europe and the world. The challenge, the newspaper adds, has been transmitted to the International Boxing Union.

ALL GYMS DARK

Lima will be without a scholastic basketball game Friday night for the first time since the cage season opened in December.

Of the four teams in the city, South and Central will be at Bluffton, St. Johns has no game scheduled and St. Rose will play the University of Dayton High school team at Dayton.

The Dayton quintet, which during the major part of the season, was regarded as one of the strongest in the state, was stopped by the Irish five when the two outfits played at St. Rose auditorium several weeks ago.

Since then, the Dayton aggregation has been working night and day to remove the blot from their escutcheon and they will give St. Rose the hardest battle of the year Friday night.

Coach Baker's outfit, which has played under an unlucky star all season, will be under the same influence against Dayton. There has been scarcely a game during the year, when St. Rose has not been minus the services of one or more of the regulars because of illness.

Three first-string men are on the sick list and the locals will be compelled to play without Captain Jimmy Daly, Buchanan or Brunswick Friday.

MANY ENTER CAGE MEETS

CLEVELAND—Forty-four teams are entered in the Northeastern Ohio High School Basketball Tournament which opens at the Western Reserve Gymnasium here this afternoon. No morning session was held because of a meeting of the coaches.

Twenty teams were entered in Class A, and twenty-four in Class B.

DELAWARE, Ohio.—Under drawings in Class B, of the Central Ohio High School Basketball Tournament, Lilliards and Cardington will play the first game at 9 o'clock this morning on the courts of the Ohio Wesleyan gymnasium.

In all 85 teams are scheduled to play in the tournament.

At Akron, Ohio—Forty scholastic basketball teams were scheduled to compete in the Northeastern Ohio High School Association Tournament beginning at noon here today. The class B, teams take the floor this noon and the class A, teams swing into action tonight. Twenty-four teams are entered in Class B, and sixteen in Class A.

WALTER JOHNSON TO REPORT LATE

Two wallboys were handed the Washington pitching staff as Doney Bush gathers his Senatorial clan for his Florida training season.

“Lefty” Brogan, star pitcher with the Charleston club, is so seriously ill that he will not be able to play this year.

Brogan went in as a pinch hitter too, and wound up with a .346 batting average. He won 18 and lost 9 games as a moundman.

Walter Johnson, veteran ace, is held up by serious sickness in his home. He will be late in reporting for training.

LEADS TO PLAY SPENCERVILLE

After resting for several weeks, the Lima Leads will take the floor Friday night at Spencerville.

The local aggregation will be opposed by one of the strongest independent teams in the district. The Spencerville record shows that the quintet has defeated the Ada Collegians and also won four out of the last five games played.

The lineups will probably be as follows:

Spencerville	Pos.	Lima
Hydaker	P.	Leads
Hullinger	C.	Roeder
Pickering	IF.	Johnson
Rider	OF.	Greenland
Fritchard	LG.	Holloway

GEORGETOWN IS LOSING STARS

Gorgetown University is another college to feel the effects of professional leagues grabbing off its stars. No less than three of the Georgetown players have been signed up this year—all by one team.

Art Reynolds, star right-handed pitcher, credited with his alma mater's diamond success last year, has been taken on by the Toronto club of the International League. Sam Ilyman and Bill Kenyon, two of his teammates last year, will also report to Toronto this spring.

Walker Flukes In Majors

Why do some players who are sensations in the minors fail to deliver in the majors?

Why do other players who meet with only fair success in the bushes develop into major league stars?

That has been a deep, dark mystery for years to major league scouts and managers. It will probably remain so for ever.

IN LIMA PLAYHOUSES TODAY

BY GERTRUDE GILLHAM

"Dark Secrets" Is the Quilna's Attraction

THRILLING incidents and highly artistic photography are predominate in "Dark Secrets," Dorothy Dalton's latest vehicle for Paramount, which is the attraction today and for the remainder of the week at the Quilna theatre. It is a bit allegoric but decidedly entertaining and gives Dorothy Dalton ample opportunity to display her histrionic ability.

The story deals with the willful daughter of wealthy parents who falls in love with a British army officer and who, thru an accidental fall from a horse, becomes paralyzed. She becomes acquainted with an Egyptian physician who, by his wonderful healing powers, has miraculously cured her. This pre-

Jazz Week Is Planned at Sigma

MAE MURRAY has succumbed to the popular vogue of costume plays and in her latest, "Jazzmania," presented by Robert Z. Leonard, the charming Metro star, adds another to the rapidly increasing number of spectacular costume plays. "Jazzmania" is appearing at the Sigma for an entire week, beginning Saturday.

The successor in popular favor to the star's "Broadway Rose" is, from advance reports, totally different from anything she has hitherto attempted. As a matter of fact, it is a combination of the star's most appealing bits; for in it she dances as splendidly as ever, wears gowns as brilliant and awe-inspiring as is her custom, and has lavish and luxurious settings for the background of the action.

"Jazzmania" is a novel combination of the real and the make believe. The story concerns Queen Ninon, a ruler in a Balkan kingdom, who escapes to America to avoid a revolution in her country, caused by her enemies. The delightful Queen is an enthusiast about jazz, and in her apartment in New York she performs for a small, chosen circle. However, when she learns of the desperate plight of the women and children of her country she returns in

Thrills Galore in "The Third Alarm"

FIRE scenes that dwarf any others ever shown upon the screen, and many keen thrills to enjoy Johnson's stupendous picture, "The Third Alarm," which will have its initial showing Saturday, at the Lyric theatre.

There have been fire scenes produced in the annals of screendom but none has matched the conflagration portrayed in "The Third Alarm." Credit for this amazing achievement should go to Emory Johnson, the producer, and his technical staff who toiled for months in the great F. B. O. studios of Los Angeles to make these scenes convincing for their realism.

The production is a complete picture to "in the line of the law," a police drama of unusual proportions which still entertains millions of theatre-goers throughout the world. It is set on the same huge lines but with far more thrilling action than was depicted in the production which had a similar American production.

While "The Third Alarm" has been invented with truly magnificent love interest and stupendous dramatic thrills, it also shows what the screen can do, how the struggles manfully to support his family, how he goes to his duty, how he fights the danger, and how in the end, the public is all too likely to forget what a fine and noble work the fire-fighters have achieved. At no time does the director become preachy. "The Third Alarm" is first of all entertainment but in the development of his hero's theme, Mr. Johnson has gone far beyond the mere individuals with whom he had told his story and shows the noble and unselfish instincts which actuate the average fireman in the pursuit of his duty.

In the cast are such well known players as Ralph Lewis, in the role of the veteran fire-fighter, Johnnie Walker, Ella Hall, Richard Morris and others. L. B. O. is distributing the production.

Billie Gerber Revue Is Headliner at Faurot

A GAIN the Faurot comes forl with a Keith bill of merit, although not as pretentious as the usual standard, it will furnish an hour and half of keen enjoyment.

Just to be different we will start with the last and best first. Billie Gerber Revue is the headline attraction and is a melange of vocal and instrumental music, and dancing of the best kind. Two accordionists offer splendid music and Miss Gerber, herself, in a take-off scene from Follies is splendid. The other feature of the act is a terpsichorean artist of ability. You will find this the best act of the bill.

Creedon and Davis offer a comedy sketch filled with good humor. It is along the usual vaudeville line and is merely a conversational line of the nonsensical type.

James "Fat" Thompson, ably as-equipment is used. Quite novel. They accomplish many balancing and gymnastic feats and demonstrate a series of highly developed achievements.

And now, just a word to theatre goers. Lima has always desired good Keith acts, now that we have them, let's try to appreciate them and show your appreciation by applauding. Some of the very best acts that have played Lima have received hands that would make an artist give up all hopes. If you enjoy the act, don't act so nonchalantly, but show a bit of enthusiasm which will all make for better entertainment.

"His Royal Majesty" Laughing Hit at Orpheum

THE second offering of the "Why Worry" company entitled "His Royal Majesty" featuring "Buzz" and "Honey Gal" found instantaneous favor with Orpheum patrons yesterday. However "Buzz" is seen in a entirely different characterization from the opening bill, as he portrays the role of an elderly man of wealth who still has a craving for the weaker sex, especially so for the younger element. He proves himself a first class provocator in expounding the mythical "Philippine Islands". The situations are humorous and extreme and affords each player ample opportunity, to stand out individually. The stage setting of "His Royal Majesty" is in keeping with the initial play, likewise the costuming of the chorus, which by the way, is a bright and vivacious one. "Honey Gal" seems to be gaining in popularity with every appearance and is a signal for laughter. Engone O'Gorman, Dora Cullinane, Halene Stannell, Hazel O'Leary, Joe Williams, Blanchford Nelson, and others were all seen in roles of equal prominence, while Syd Garbison, the very clever light comedian of the show, had everything his own way as King Waller of the "Philippine Islands." "His Royal Majesty" is pure wholesome fun, and in the hands of the Why Worry Company, is real entertainment.

THE THIRD ALARM

Pounding Hoofs! Clanging Gongs! Shrieking Sirens! Onward!

The Chiefs, 1000 strong, saw this picture. All had seen stage-picturing thrills of real life. But they sat there in a darkened room, silent, critical, cold, while The Third Alarm swept across the screen like a thundering avalanche.

Boaring flames, stifling smoke, a tremendous flash and the mighty structure became a thundering inferno of flame that leaped toward the stars. An ear-splitting crash and then—Silence. They had been caught like rats in a trap!

A stupendous love story of a plain, two-sided man, a fireman, discarded, discouraged, but who rose to glorious heights in the blazing crucible of destiny.

High above the ground the searchlight discovered her outlined against the smoking walls. Terror blazed in her eyes. Her slender figure shuddered as the scarlet flames curled around her. Stretched forth to engulf her.

E. Rhodes, 523 N. Kenilworth-av. writes: "My small cousin had a dog which he valued very highly and usually when my aunt gave the boy something to eat, she also prepared something for the dog. On this particular day the dog was absent when Willie asked for a piece. Suddenly his mother heard the boy stamping his foot and scolding his dog, a thing which had never occurred before. She rebuked him and asked him why he scolded the dog and he replied, 'Well, I wasn't going to have him sitting there grinning at me!'"

Mrs. W. L. Savidge, Spencerville, R. D. 3, relates this one: "About a year ago a tax assessor was stopping at home, leaving tax papers to be filled out. He called at our house and asked for Mr. Savidge. I told him he was at the barn. Just then he walked back and asked someone who had just come up, 'Say sonny, where's your dad?' Mr. Savidge said, 'Well, I'm supposed to be the man here.' The man laughed and explained that he was a kid."

Jim Mackenzie and Clarence Fraunfelter were eating lunch at the White cafe, perched on stools at the counter. They got into an argument about the value of a certain auto.

Fraunfelter's pie disappeared. Mackenzie, in the excitement, forgot he had eaten his own pie and didn't stop until he had also eaten Fraunfelter's.

Judge Emmett Jackson, entered his home at dusk and began talking to his wife, without waiting to turn on the light.

"I wondered why she was silent and did not disagree with what I said," the judge relates. "Then I remembered that she had said she intended to visit a neighbor that afternoon. I was talking to her post, lying on a chair."

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment which helped. I purchased more and was healed after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Ointment." (Signed) Miss Nettie Scott, R. 2, Box 70, Fair Grove, Mo.
